"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." In the 1932 Maroon and White, the Annual Board wishes to present the play of life at Central High—a drama showing the tragedy and the comedy, the joy and the sorrow, and the laughter and the tears of each act in the great play.

Foreword

WE, the Maroon and White Annual Board, hope this year to present the great melodrama of life at Central High School. We wish to show that our school is a stage on which every student is a player. "Each plays his part, and receives his portion." We are trying to portray the intermingling of comedy and tragedy which form such a vital part of the life of every player on our stage.

Through the cooperation of the entire production staff under the able direction of Dorothy Penman, each detail of every scene and act is so arranged that the drama is complete and ready to be presented before the public.

Dedication

to

who, through her loyal support of all of Central High School's varied activities, has helped to promote a spirit of modern progress and achievement characteristic of actors and actresses on the stage and screen, we, the Annual Board, gratefully dedicate the 1932 Maroon and White.

Administration

The administration department of Central High School is composed of the following units: Principal, Deans, Registrar, Office Stenographer, and Book Shop.

Figuratively speaking, the principal's work consists of "pouring oil on troubled waters and keeping the machinery greased." Mr. Heitman's greatest tasks are to act as general supervisor of the school and to keep everybody busy.

Mr. Paxson is serving his first year at Central, having been principal of the high school at Spencer, Iowa, last year. Mr. Paxson acts as assistant principal as well as performing the duties of a dean of boys.

As dean of girls, Miss Cook has a variety of duties. She holds conferences with the girls and gives them individual help, besides advising the Friendship Club and Inner Circle.

Miss Flint, the registrar at Central High, keeps all the records. She sends in monthly attendance records to the superintendent's office and sends the credits of students to other high schools or colleges.

Miss McClanahan does all the stenographic and secretarial work of the office. She has charge of sending out report cards, mimeographing examination questions, banking, tardies, and giving general information.

Miss Larson, of the book shop, has charge of all the books, and also keeps the money of the various organizations.

History

The history department, with nine teachers, offers Sociology, Civics, Economics, and two courses in History. Both of the latter, American History and General History, are one year courses. American History is required of every student, while any of the other offered studies may be taken to complete a major in history.

Elson's "Modern Times and the Living Past" and Robinson, Smith, and Breadsted's "Our World, Today and Yesterday," form the basis of study in General History.

"American History", by Muzzey, is studied and reference reading is especially stressed in the American History course.

In the Sociology course, Towne's "Social Problems" is the basic text used. Use is made of several supplementary books and various institutions are visited.

Magruder's "American Government" is studied in Civics .

The course in Economics is based on "Elementary Economics", by Carver and Carmichael, and many other references are also used. Current events pertaining to Economics are given daily.

Judging by the number of students taking these courses, they are popular high school studies.

Industrial

Central High offers its students a choice of eleven industrial subjects. These are sewing, cooking, home planning, expression, public speaking, music, auto mechanics, auto trade, woodshop, printing, and art. These subjects, except home planning which is offered only to senior girls, may be taken at any time during the high school course.

Cooking and sewing, both three semester courses, are offered only to girls. Auto mechanics and auto trade are intended to prepare students for work in commercial garages. After taking six semesters of woodshop or printing, one is prepared to work in an industrial plant. The music department offers work in the A Capella Choir, boys' and girls' glee clubs, chorus, band, orchestra, and music theory. Expression and public speaking, half year subjects, are a study of stage work and plays and various types of speeches. In the art course, two semesters' work is along certain designated lines, while the last two semesters are devoted to individual work.

Considering these facts it is plain to see that Central has many valuable industrial subjects for selection by its students.

English

Five semesters of senior high school English are required of students graduating from Central High. In addition there are two electives which may be chosen by those wishing additional work in English.

When a student enters English 3, he is given a review of grammar and composition from "Using English", by Chapman.

English 4 is devoted largely to classics, "Idylls of the King" by Tennyson, "Julius Caesar" by Shakespeare, and Irving's "Sketch Book" furnishing the subject matter.

In English 5 Schweikert's collection of short stories is studied and there is also a study of "Hamlet" and the drama in general. Composition is in the field of narration and description.

The material studied in English 6 is Fuess' "Selected Essays" and McCauley's "Life of Samuel Johnson." This semester also includes a study of argument and debate.

As English 7 is the last required English, the student is given a review in grammar and composition and takes for his classics Milton's "Minor Poems" and "Modern American and British Poetry", by Untermeyer.

The elective courses are one semester courses in American and English Literature. The texts used are "Three Centuries of American Prose and Poetry", by Newcomber-Andrews, and "Twelve Centuries of English Prose and Poetry" by the same authors.

Since there are thirteen teachers in this department and approximately 1700 students taking these courses, the English department is one of the largest departments in Central.

Physical Education

Due to the large number of students and inadequate accommodations, only two semesters of physical training are offered. This course, however, is required of every student in the tenth year.

Central High competes annually in three major sports, namely: football, basketball, and track. Mr. Lloyd B. Martin coaches all three of these activities, and under his leadership Central invariably captures many honors.

The boys' daily gymnasium work is taught by Mr. Roy Quinn. Many sports are taken up including wrestling, boxing, basketball, baseball, touch tackle, volleyball, tumbling, apparatus work, and track, besides fundamental exercises and calisthenics. A wrestling and boxing tournament is being held for the first time this year. Inter-class basketball tournaments are also held. Although they are not directly under the department, golf and tennis tournaments take place annually.

The girls' gymnasium classes, under instructorship of Miss Strickler, play volleyball, basketball, tennis, and baseball. They also take up dancing, tumbling, and track.

Retailing

In this course, students must work for a minimum of twenty hours a week in some retail store in the city. They are given laboratory credit for this work besides being paid by the store. To enter this course, one must pass intelligence, aptitude, and personality tests. On the basis of these tests and their school records, students are recommended to employers.

In the first semester, Commercial English 3, Commercial Geography, the introduction to retail selling, and textiles are studied.

In the senior tenth year, Commercial English 4, Economic History of the United States, principles of retailing and Commercial Arithmetic 1 are taken up. "Principles of Retailing" by Brisco, is studied and methods are based on those in the New York City stores.

Public Speaking, Commercial Arithmetic 2, Advertising, and Merchandising 1 are taught in the junior eleventh year.

Studies in the senior eleventh year include oral and written expression, color and design, and Merchandising 2. "Art in the Home and Clothing" by Trilling and Williams, is the basis of color and design, while Merchandising 2 takes up house furnishings and leather goods.

In Commercial English 5, appreciation of literature is studied. "Mental Hygiene" by Le Rue, Retail Economics, and Merchandising 3 are studied in the junior twelfth semestre.

In the last semester, trade journals and "Bibliography of Retailing" by Nystrom, Sales Psychology, Sales Demonstration, and Sociology are studied. Sales demonstrations are given by representative business firms.

It is self evident that this is a very practical course for those wishing to take up merchandising and retailing.

Business

Central High has a complete Business department with eleven teachers, under the supervision of Miss Bina Mae Traxler.

Subjects offered in this department are Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Accounting, Business Economics, Salesmanship, Advertising, United States History, Commercial Law, Industrial History, and Commercial Geography.

Three semesters of typing are offered, the third being Office Training. The Gregg System of Shorthand is used, there being four semesters offered. The Burroughs, Comptometer, or Monroe Calculators are used in addition to other bookkeeping work of which four semesters are offered. The other subjects offered are all one semester courses.

Students taking a Business Course are required to pursue certain required business subjects. However, a student in any other course may elect a study in the Business department.

On the completion of the course a student is fitted to successfully fill many good positions in business establishments.

Mathematics

The very complete Mathematics Department at Central High offers two semesters of Plane Geometry, one semester each of Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, and Advanced Arithmetic, and Algebra 3 and 4.

Two semesters of Geometry are required of every student for graduation. Any of the other fields in mathematics offered may be taken to complete a major in mathematics. Wells' and Hart's text books are used as a basis for Plane Geometry. "New Second Course in Algebra" is the text book used in the study of Algebra 3 and 4, while the Trigonometry course is based on "Plane Trigonometry" by Durell.

These courses are limited to students in certain classifications. Sophomores may pursue Plane Geometry, while Juniors take Solid Geometry and Algebra 3 and 4. Trigonometry and Advanced Arithmetic are exclusively reserved for Seniors.

Instructors in the Mathematics Department are Misses Claypool, Steuteville, Thompson, Hodge, Scott, and Martin, Mr. Ray and Mr. Littlejohn.

Science

Year courses in Physics, Chemistry, and Biology are offered by the Central High Science Department, under the instructorship of six teachers.

Physics, based on "Elements of Physics" by Millikin and Gale, is a study of the natural laws of the universe dealing with mechanics, heat, light, electricity, and magnetism.

One semester each of Botany and Zoology make up the year's study of Biology. Botany is the study of plant life, while animal life is studied in Zoology.

Principles of chemistry, compounds, and equations are studied in Chemistry. Commercial adoptions and uses of chemical compounds are also studied.

As science is of great importance in modern life, one year of science is required of every student. This may be taken as General Science in junior high school or one of the courses described may be taken in senior high.

Top Row—Brandenburg, Hoff, Haskins
Bottom Row—Sullivan, Franchere, Siderius, Wellhausen

Foreign Language

French, German, Latin, and Spanish are the four foreign languages offered at Central High.

The first three semesters of French are a study of grammar based on Chardanel's "New French Grammar." A French reader is also used at this time. "New French Reader", "Le Juif Polonais", and "Review Composition Book" are used in French 4.

German 1 and 2 take up grammar with supplementary reading work. In German 3, "Immensee", "Germelshausen", and "Hoher als die Kirche" are translated. "Der Neffee als Onkel", "Das kalts Herz", and "Das edle Blut" are read in German 4.

First year Latin takes up grammar and composition, using Bennett's Grammar as the text book. A study of Caesar's Gallic Wars is started in Latin 3 and continued in Latin 4. Vergil and Cicero are offered on alternate years as Latin 5 and 6 or 7 and 8.

"Spanish Book One" by Friedman-Arjona-Carvajal is used in Spanish 1 and 2, and "A Trip to South America" by Waxman, is read in the latter. In Spanish 3, prose and composition are taken up. "El Capitan Veneno" by Alarcon, and "El Pajaro Verde" by Valera, are the books studied in Spanish 4.

Two years of any language must be taken in order to secure credit in that subject. However, if two years of one language are taken, credit will be given for only two semesters of another language.

The Library

The Central High School Library is primarily a reference library, with collections of books to supplement class work. Students use the library during study periods and also borrow books for home use.

The staff is composed of twenty-six student helpers who assist at the circulation desk and also with the other work which must be done to keep the library in good order.

Normal Training

A two-year normal training course is offered at Central High. Miss Mary E. Moser is the instructor in this department.

As the number of students taking this course has decreased every year, all the professional subjects are offered every two years. These subjects are Methods 1 and 2, School Management, Grammar, Agriculture, and Normal Music.

State certificates for rural schools are granted on completion of this course. Students may also enter some normal school if they wish to do so.

Fred C. Miller

In Memoriam

For the past twelve years an instructor at Central High School, Mr. Fred C. Miller was known throughout the Middle West for his constructive ability and clear mindedness.

As the head of the auto mechanics department, Mr. Miller began his work here when interest in the course was at such a low ebb that the faculty considered the discontinuation of the department.

From such a beginning, Fred Miller enlarged and improved the department. Due to his constant and untiring efforts, one of the most modern and most extensively equipped high school auto shops in the state is to be found at Central High.

Principal A. G. Heitman has said, "In the death of Mr. Miller, Central has lost one of her outstanding teachers. In his field he was supreme. Those of us who saw the beginning of auto mechanics in this school have watched with astonishment the rapid development of the department after he became its head. And to him is due all the credit. Central has lost a splendid teacher and a loyal friend."

On Christmas Day, 1931, Mr. Miller passed into another world following a short illness. His spirit lingers as an unextinguishable flame in the minds and hearts of countless friends, both in and out of Central High School.

"Democracy, friendship, and loyalty" are the watchwords of "Kee Y" which govern all the activities of the club. The Civics Literary Society, the first literary club organized at Central High School, was formed in 1890. Ever since the beginning of the existence of Civics at Central, the members of this organization have been prominent in most of the school activities.

Members of this society have won honors in inter-club athletics as well as in the inter-club debates.

The "Kee Y" programs are of a varied nature. They include debates, speeches, skits, and musical numbers. The programs are given at the club meetings which are held in the Philo-Civics club room.

One of the most prominent literary societies is the Philomathian Literary Society. When the Philos were organized in 1892 they chose love, honor, hope, and happiness for their ideals. The Philos try to live up to these four ideals which are represented by the four leaves of their emblem, the four-leaf clover. The Philomathians meet in their club room on the fourth floor every Friday afternoon at three o'clock. These meetings consist of a program and short social session before the business meeting is held.

This year the Philos voted to give the money they would ordinarily use for an informal to Charity. However, they held their regular joints with their brother club, Civics, following election of new members.

The Philomathian Society was the first of the girls' literary societies to suggest the short story writing contest in which all three girls' societies competed during the year. This society has also taken a very prominent part in the club declams and other school activities.

The Elite Literary Society, one of Central High's most prominent societies, was organized in 1872. Upholding their principles of leadership, ability, and uprightness, the Elites have taken an active part in most of the school activities. Several of the outstanding leaders of the student body have their names on the club roster and Elite members have shown ability in music, debating, and athletics.

The Elites and their sister club, the Hesperians, donated food for the needy. They were the first Central organizations to do such an act for the sake of Charity.

The Hep-Elite organizations were the only literary societies to entertain the other societies at an informal this year.

School spirit and pep displayed by members of the club help to preserve the popularity of the Elite society in the school.

The Hesperian Society, organized in 1893, has always boosted the school in its many activities. The girls of this organization try to uphold the ideals of truth, loyalty, and love at all times. They participated with the Elites in giving an informal dance to which the other literary organizations were invited. In the fall they donated food for the needy.

As usual, this year the Heps took part in the inter-club declams and one of their members won the short story contest with her story entitled "Just an Antique Desk."

At the regular meetings of the society, which are held in the Hep club room every Friday after school, programs of a literary nature, and also solely for entertainment, are given.

Although they claim the distinction of being the youngest boys' literary society at Central High School, the Chrestomathians have proved their worth among their fellow students. Members of the Chrestomathian Literary Society are prominent in many branches of school activities, especially in forensics. The society has taken part in inter-club debating, basketball, and tennis.

An important move made by the Chrestos during the past year was to stop participating in social events. In order to segregate the club from all social functions that detract from literary work, this society decided to abolish informals, joints, and club picnics. However, later in the year joint meetings with the Erodelphians were held again.

The Chrestos meet every Friday evening at seven-thirty o'clock in the club room which they share with the Erodelphian Literary Society.

Although the Erodelphian Society is one of the younger literary societies at Central High, it is holding its own among the other clubs. In living up to their motto, "Life without literature is death", the Delphs have many literary programs, but they also put on programs for the entertainment of the members. These programs are given at the regular meetings of the club every Friday afternoon at three o'clock. The meetings, to which guests are usually invited, are held in the club room on the fourth floor of the building.

The Erodelphian Literary Society has competed in the inter-club declamatory contest and also in the short story contest held by the three girls' literary societies.

Joint meetings were held with the Chrestomathians, Delph brother society, following all but one of the elections of new members.

The members of this organization form the governing body of the Friendship Club. This body is headed by the officers of Friendship with Miss Cook as the adviser. Five Philomathians, five Erodelphians, five Hesperians, and five non-club members are the girls who make up the Inner Circle.

The functions of the organization are to plan every Friendship Frolic and to plan and put over the May Banquet. To put on a successful banquet is a difficult task as this group of girls must conduct the election of the May Queen and sell tickets for the affair as well as to plan for decorations and other features of the banquet.

Meetings of the Inner Circle are held every Thursday afternoon except on those days when a frolic is held. An annual Mother's Tea is also one of the main features on the program for this representative group of girls.

Friendship Club

The Friendship Club is an organization for the promotion of goodwill and fellowship among the girls of the school, besides providing entertainment for them.

All girls of the school are included in the membership of this club and pay their dues in the form of purchasing Friendship tags each semester. This fund is used to defray the expenses of the club, especially the Friendship Club Banquet.

Meetings of the organization are held on the last Thursday of every month. An entertaining program is given in the auditorium, followed by dancing in the gymnasium.

One of the biggest social events of the school year is the annual Friendship Club May Banquet. The identity of the May Queen previously elected by the girls of the school is revealed on this occasion. A maid of honor also shares honors with the queen. Lavish decorations feature this banquet and it is looked forward to during the entire school year.

The officers who have been responsible for the success of this organization this year are Marjorie Kelly, president; Katherine West, vice president; Dorothy Haley, secretary; and Virginia Hunter, treasurer.

These eleven people represent the members of the organization at the business meetings. The meetings of this group are held on the first and third Thursdays of each month. Election of officers is held once each semester. Every semester a party is given which all members are entitled to attend.

The club strives to interest students in the commercial course or various business training subjects. The typewriting and shorthand contests at Central High are sponsored by this group and they send representatives to the tournaments to which Central is eligible to send her representatives.

To promote interest in better photography and the lifting of members from snapshotter class to a point where they can take, develop, and print their own pictures in a comprehensive manner, this is the purpose of the Castle Kamera Club.

The meetings at which photographic work is done are held every Friday at 3:15. Programs are given by the members of the organization, or Mr. Hissong.

There are two classes of members in this club. These are the full-fledged members and probation members. In order to become a regular member of this group, one must present some pictures which he himself has taken, developed, and printed.

El Aguila

Adviser, Miss Hoff

El Aguila is the Spanish Club of Central High. There are two divisions of this organization as the meetings are held during class periods. These meetings are held every other Friday. All Spanish 4 students are automatically members of the Spanish Club.

The programs of the group are of a varied nature. Sometimes literary programs are given and at other times games which test the vocabulary are played. The literary programs give students an idea of Spanish authors and their works other than those which are studied in class. General discussions, current events, and various plays are given in Spanish. Everyone learns the Spanish parliamentary terms so that any club member should be able to lead the meeting at any time.

The purpose of this work is to use Spanish in a different way from ordinary classroom discussion.

Adviser, Miss Wellhausen

One of the three language clubs at Central High is the German Club, or "Der deutsche Verein". To be eligible for membership in this society, a student must take German 3 or 4 or be an honor student in first year German. The club members hold their meetings every two weeks in the Erodelphian club room.

The purpose of this organization is to promote interest in the German language and to give students an opportunity to use the language in conversation, as the business is transacted in German.

Election of officers is held each semester. Officers for the first term were Eddie Miller, president; Kathryn Gliessmann, vice president; Arthur Gelfand, secretary; and Donald Nelson, treasurer. Leaders during the second semester were Ingeborg Larsen, president; Orgine Meents, vice president; Florence Rumsch, secretary-treasurer.

A worthwhile organization at Central is Hi-Tri. This group of approximately forty members holds its meetings in the Delph club room every Monday afternoon. The purpose of this group, which is affiliated with the Y. W. C. A., is to maintain a high Christian standard of living and to promote the spirit of friendliness throughout all the girls of the school.

Hi-Y

Adviser, Mr. Belknap

Hi-Y is organized in order to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the high school and community, high standards of Christian character, clean scholarship, clean sportsmanship, and clean living."

This club, which is a companion organization to Hi-Tri, has a membership of twenty boys. Meetings are held every Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. At these gatherings, educational programs are given.

This organization held its first meeting in the fall of 1931. The purpose of this new group is to train the future stenographer in the use of shorthand. Reading of shorthand is stressed most and this forms most of the program at the meetings of the club. These gatherings are held in 409 on Wednesday of each week. Election of officers of the group is held every twelve weeks.

Art Club

Adviser, Miss White

Those students who are interested in art and are taking it as a regular school subject are eligible for membership in the Art Club. At the meetings of the club, various phases of art work are discussed. The Bokian Club is a new organization at our school. It was organized in the fall of 1931 and immediately proved itself worthy of existence. Its members are the girls who work as library assistants.

Meetings of this club are held every Thursday afternoon in the library. Following the business meeting of the organization, all the girls assist Miss Engle in performing tasks which help to keep the library in order. One feature of this club is its correspondence with similar groups in other high schools of this country and Hawaii.

Those who have the honor of being the first officers of this organization are Dorothy Gelson, president; Florence Rumsch, vice president; Beverly Myers, recording secretary; Frances Jepson, corresponding secretary; and Ruth Martin, treasurer.

The Castle Chapter of the National Honor Society is organized to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership and to encourage the development of character. Members of the society are elected by the faculty on the basis of the society's four principles of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Election and induction of members are held once a semester and an Honor Society banquet is also given each semester.

As membership in this organization is one of the highest honors which can be conferred on a student, it is striven after continually.

Adviser, Mr. Racker

The Maroon and White annual board, composed of fifteen students, publishes the Central High School yearbook.

The work of the yearbook staff covers a whole year and is supervised by Mr. Racker. In the early part of the year, the board is instructed in the building of a book before the actual work on the project begins.

In building the Maroon and White, the editor holds an important and responsible position and she and the assistant editor must plan the entire book, prepare the dummies, and see that all work is done promptly. The associate editor helps any department which needs assistance. To transact all business and handle all money which comes in or goes out is the duty of the business manager. It is the duty of the literary editor to prepare all written material in the book, except the sports, which are written by the sports editor. The photography department sees that all pictures are prepared for the engraver. The artists have charge of all art work, and the typists do all the typewritten work in connection with building the annual. The advertisements, which are solicited by the boys in the advertising department, help to finance the book.

Through the cooperation of every member of the staff, a successful yearbook is published.

Record Board

Adviser, Mr. Fisher

Record Board try-outs are held every semester and those who are to become the next Record Board are chosen on a basis of a test which they must write.

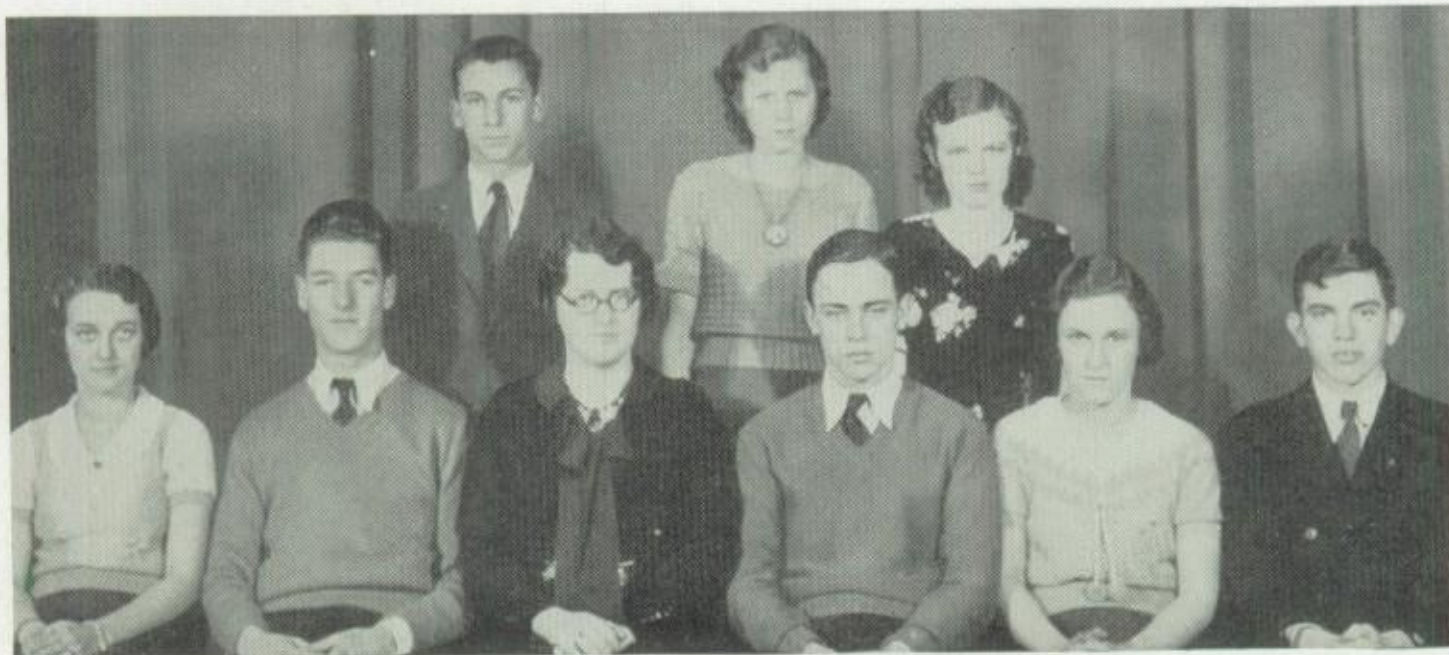

The Record, Central High School's weekly newspaper, has always won many honors, and was this year granted first place rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Those who were mostly responsible for the success of the Record during the fall semester were Sulamith Bereskin, editor; Loyal Keir, assistant editor; Abraham Singer, copy editor; Naomi Sacks, feature editor; James Bolks, sports writer; Louise Flynn, proof reader; and Julia Bereskin, business manager. Other members of the staff were nine reporters, two typists, and two ad solicitors.

Abraham Singer filled the editor's position during the second semester. Max Maron was the copy editor; Elinor Wakefield the feature editor; and Helen Closner the exchange editor. Athletic events were again written by James Bolks; and proofs were read by Florence Rumsch. Louise Flynn acted in the capacity of business manager. This semester there were six reporters but the usual number of typists and advertising solicitors.

A feature of this year's Record was the publishing of a literary supplement by the English department.

Quill and Scroll, the National Honorary Society for High School Journalists, was organized at Iowa City in 1926, with Central as a charter member.

All members of the Record staff and the editor and business manager of the annual are eligible for membership in this organization if they pass the following requirements: To be in the upper third of their class in scholarship; to show some superior work in some phase of journalism; to be recommended by the supervisor or by the committee governing publications; and to be approved by the National Secretary-Treasurer.

Meetings of this group are held on Tuesday of every other week and programs and business meetings are on alternate meeting days. The feature on most of the programs is a speech by some professional journalist.

Although Quill and Scroll is not a very old organization, it has aroused much interest and proved very successful.

Band

Director, Mr. Iverson
President, Julian Serrill

Central High School's large band is organized with Julian Serrill as president. George Cook occupied the drum major position this year.

Instruments in our band are one flute, one piccolo, two oboes, four clarinets, one bassoon, one baritone saxophone, one alto saxophone, three horns, three trombones, one bass, and the percussion.

The band is very popular during the football season when it plays for pep assemblies, leads all parades, and performs at the football games. In May the band gives a concert for which they spend many hours of practice. One band activity which has proved to be very popular is a complimentary concert for the June graduating class. This concert takes place at Grandview Park on Sunday evening following the baccalaureate services.

Central's band is an asset to the school as it serves to stimulate much school spirit.

Orchestra

Director, Mr. Iverson

The orchestra has developed into a fine organization with thirty instruments. These instruments are one flute, two oboes, three clarinets, one bassoon, two trumpets, three horns, two trombones, percussion, four first violins, five second violins, two violas, two cellos, and two string basses.

During the fall of the year, practice time is used in preparation of the accompaniment to the opera. Much time is spent during the spring months in preparation for an annual spring concert. Two junior high school concerts were given before the assemblies of the schools as a part of their regular assembly programs. In addition to this the orchestra plays the processional and recessional marches for the commencement exercises and Honor Society inductions.

Rubin Halpern was concert master of the group during this year.

Choir

Director, Mr. Iverson
 President, John Carlson

Central High's only selective musical group is the A Capella Choir composed of fifty-nine students. This organization is the only one of its kind in the north-western Iowa high schools. The choir is a very popular activity at this school and much interest has been shown in it and its work. Under Mr. Iverson's direction, very fine A Capella singing has been developed and many good singers produced.

Soloists in the annual operetta sponsored by the music department are selected from the choir, with the other members forming the chorus. As president of this group, John Carlson had charge of publicity for this year's opera, "The Yankee Consul."

The choir has sung before teachers' conventions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, and other well-known organizations. They felt highly honored by being asked to sing at the University of South Dakota.

Although they had no competition there, the choir sang before the sub-district music contest held at East High School. There was also no competition at the district tournament, but the entire organization traveled to Iowa City to compete with other large Iowa school choirs at the all-state meet.

Judging by the splendid work done by this musical group, it is quite certain that Central's choir will bring back honors from the state contest.

Every two weeks this group holds a meeting of the music club during their class period. Robert Rouse is the president of this club, which stimulates interest in musical activities.

Vocal Solists

Central's vocal soloists are Drury Davis, soprano; Louise Breckenbaumer, contralto; Sam Osheroff, tenor; and Eugent Raven, baritone. The soprano and alto numbers both placed second in the sub-district contest, as did also the baritone solo. However, Sam Osheroff took first place in the district contest and will represent northwestern Iowa at the state meet.

Although this group placed first in the sub-district contest, they took third place in the district tilt and therefore are ineligible to compete in the state contest.

Mixed Sextette

Since they won both previous contests, this mixed vocal group will represent this district in the state tilt. The personnel of this organization includes Tom Ferando, John Carlson, Drury Davis, Bernadine Smith, Ruth Davidson, and Eugene Raven. It is hoped that they will prove successful at Iowa City.

Lieutenant Commander Jack Morrell stops at Puerta Plata to receive important dispatches from Washington, D. C., through Amijah Beau, the American consul. He arrives on a day of fiesta and finds Amijah enjoying his experiences greatly. Jack, through the intimate and romantic acquaintance of Amijah and Donna Teresa, meets Bonita and immediately falls in love with her, not knowing that she has been receiving the attention of Don Raphael, the Governor. Don Raphael is greatly incensed over this intrusion which occurs the same day in which he receives word that he is to be arrested and thrown into jail for not paying personal debts. He causes Jack to be imprisoned in a dark cavern, but Jack's hastily-made friends affect his rescue, whereupon he orders a group of his sailors ashore and prevents the arrest of the Governor and halts the beginning of a revolution by the insurgent, Vasquez. Jack wins the hand of Bonita and Amijah announces that he and Donna Teresa will be at home to visitors in "Old New York."

Members of this group are Shirey Ostapoff, Lawrence Olson, Gisella Pill, and Rubin Halpern. It is assumed that the string quartette will win honors at Iowa City.

Instrumental Soloists

Students who represented Central with instrumental solos this year were Charles Wetmore, flute; Verner Herman, clarinet; Byron Foster, baritone and trombone; Lawrence Olson, viola; Gisella Pill, cello; and Elinore Herman, piano. Those who will compete in the Iowa City meet are the clarinet, trombone, viola, and cello soloists. At least some, if not all, of these Centralites will place in that contest.

As usual, Central's debate squad completed a successful season. The seven members of the squad participated in nineteen debates. Of these eleven were non-decision tilts and decisions were rendered at eight debates. Central's team won five debates and lost three.

The team this year was composed of Leighton Authier, Loyal Keir, Eddie Miller, Max Maron, Abraham Singer, Eugene Raven, and Robert McClintock. Eugene Raven and Abraham Singer defended the negative while the other members upheld the affirmative.

The question for debate this year was, "Resolved: That the several states enact special legislation providing for compulsory unemployment insurance."

Although Central High's team did not win the sectional debate tournament they compared very favorably with other teams.

Extemporaneous Speaking

As there were so many speakers this year, two preliminary contests were held. Six speakers were selected to speak in the home finals.

Abraham Singer, who emerged victorious in the school contest, represented Central High School in the district extemporaneous meet at Cherokee. At this meet, Abe won first honors with his speech on "Recent Controversies in Congress." This victory was in the class A division.

A controversy arose as to whether the winner of the class A or the class B division was to be sent as a representative in the state meet. Unfortunately, Abe was not given a chance to compete in the state contest.

Central's representative is prominent in the school debate and journalism circles as he is a member of the debate squad, editor of the Record, and president of Quill and Scroll. Abe was also honored by membership in the National Honor Society.

The play centers around Kenneth, who, after telling Betty that he is leaving for Europe, goes on an archaeological expedition to the West with the professor and Loomis. While in the West, guests arrive for a visit with the professor. Kenneth, recognizing Betty as one of the visitors, disguises himself and Loomis as Indians. At the same time a valuable relic disappears. Jose Andrada is caught by Kenneth, thereby restoring the relic and winning Betty's approval.

Romance and humor are combined in this play to make it a highly entertaining comedy.

Imagine a reckless and wealthy youth who writes love letters to a designing chorus girl, an attorney brother-in-law who steals the letters and gets his hand-bag mixed up with the grip of a burglar who has stolen a necklace from the mother of the youth, and the efforts of the cook to recover his plunder. Not only are the situations screamingly funny, but the lines themselves hold a fund of humor.

1931 Football Revue

The opening of the scene was witnessed by a squad of seventy prospective candidates. Among these were eight stars from last year's team. Of the eight lettermen, four were backs who had held down positions last year. Ewald and Bernard, halves; Baumsten, another half, but a prospective quarterback; and McDonough, a fullback, composed the speedy quartette of ball carriers who reported. The line veterans were Epstein and Newton, ends; Roach, tackle; and Goldberg, guard. With this large nucleus, Coach Martin had visions of a state championship team. A captain was to be appointed by Coach Martin before each game and an honorary captain chosen at the end of the season.

COACH MARTIN

This year's wonderful aggregation of football players was ably coached by Lloyd B. Martin. This was the fourteenth successful football team produced by Martin since he came here in 1919 from Grinnell.

WALTER EWALD

Whitey carried the ball at halfback for two years for the Little Maroons and proved to be a flashy addition to the team. He captained the Fort Dodge game and won an all-state third team position.

ABE EPSTEIN

Big Abe was another three letter-man in football. He played stellar ball at the end position and captained the team in the East Des Moines game. He was placed on the all-state second team.

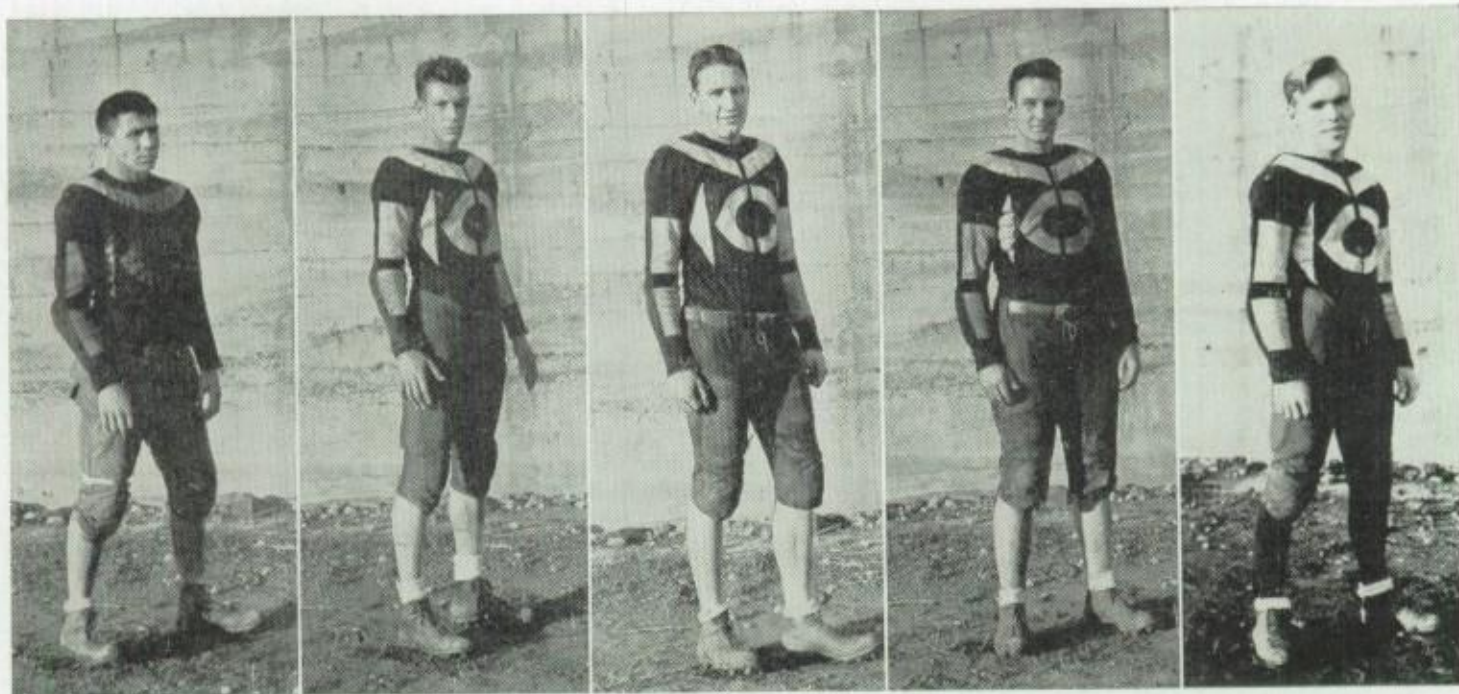

DAVE BERNARD

Davey was one of the outstanding reasons for Central's success this year. He won his third letter, performing at the halfback post, this year, and captained the LeMars and East High games. He also secured all-state team honors.

ASSISTANT COACH QUINN

Roy Quinn assisted the head football mentor this season for the fourth successive time. He also coached and managed the second squad.

JOE GOLDBERG

Joe won two letters while at Central. He played an aggressive game at guard that won him all-state first team honors. He was appointed captain for the Hawarden game.

HERB BAUMSTEN

Backfield playing of championship caliber was Herb's contribution to the team. He played a smart game at quarterback and acted as captain for the Council Bluffs game. This was his second year on the first team.

JACK NEWTON

"Newt" anchored an end position for the second time this year. He played fine football on offense for the team and proved to be a necessary asset on the defense. He captained the team at Sioux Falls.

RONALD ROACH

"Ron" won a letter playing tackle on our Little Maroon aggregation again this year. His experience at that position and his spirit aided the team greatly. He captained the Denison game.

KENNETH McDONOUGH

"Kenny" won a letter last year and proceeded to do the plunging for the team at the fullback position again this year. He captained the South Omaha game but received an ankle injury early in the first quarter which put him out for the season.

JAMES KELLY

Jim is a Junior who successfully filled a hole at the tackle position this year. He easily made up for his lack of experience by his ability and fight.

LEO CAIN

Leo was a recruit from last years' second team who won a place on the team playing at guard. His second team experience helped a lot in his value to the team.

EUGENE HAMILTON

"Gene", although one of the smallest men on our heavy team, filled the important center position and did most of the playing there for the team this year.

TOM NEAL

Tom, although a substitute, did a lot of playing for Central this year and was one of the team's best backfield performers and scoring threats.

LOUIS BATHAN

"Lou" performed at a wing position for the Martinmen and played a good deal of the season. On the last practice of the season, he received a concussion of the brain which made the only hospital injury this season.

BOB McINTYRE

Bob won a letter playing at the pivot post this year, although he was on the sidelines a good deal of the season with injuries.

BUS CARLSON

Bus is a Junior who did some heavy playing in the line at tackle this year. He garnered enough quarters to win a letter and will probably repeat next year.

BOYD KEATING

"Keat" contributed some playing at a wing post during our championship football season. He played in several games, but fell short of the required number of quarters for a letter.

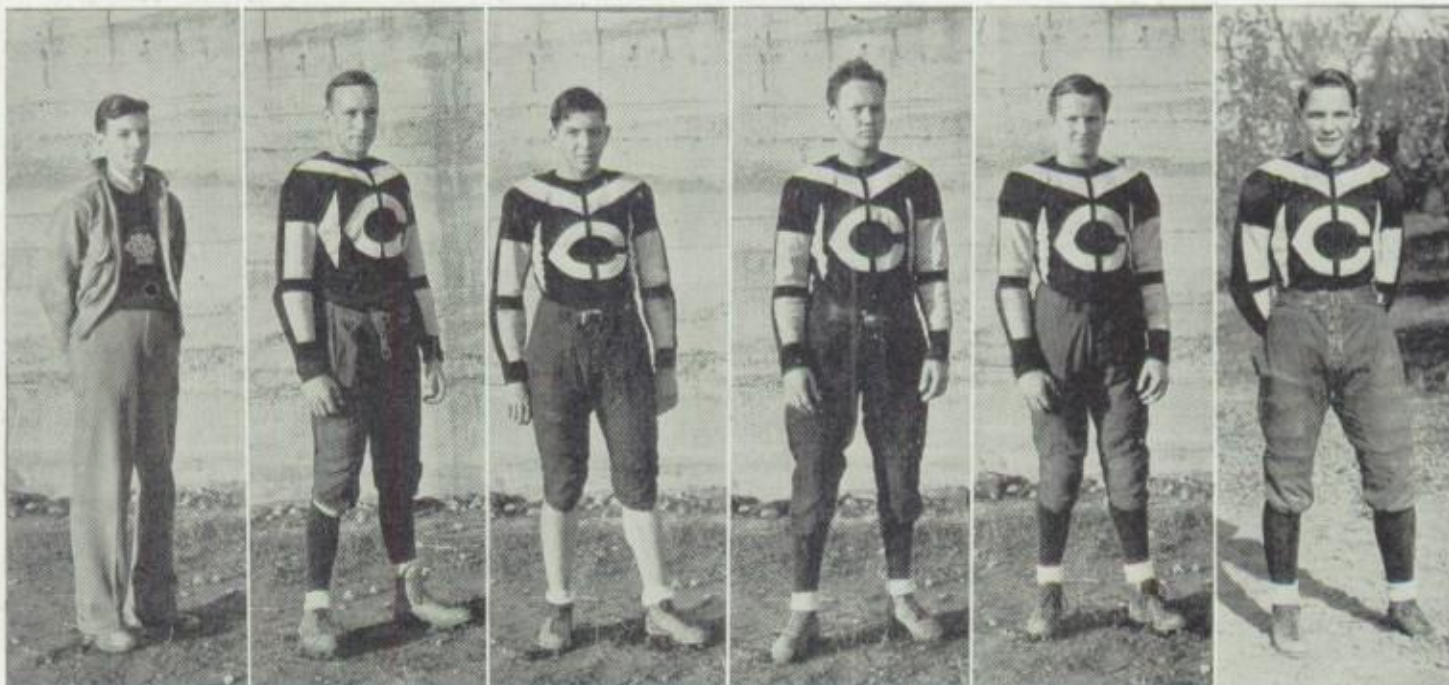

HOWARD STRACKBIEN

The "Deacon" was a substitute guard this year. He played in several games, but did not perform enough to win a letter.

BILL HALEY

"Hard-head" Haley carried the ball in several games for Central and contributed some points in the scoring column. He played well at half-back, but did not win a letter.

SID BAUMSTEN

For the second year in succession, Sid was a valuable asset to the team, serving in the role of Student Manager.

BOB ALDRICH

Aldrich was a recruit from Wyoming this year. He played tackle in several games, but did not play enough to warrant a letter.

DICK BYRNES

Dick was a fast addition to the backfield. He played halfback and carried the pigskin against opposing teams for several points, but did not receive a letter.

JACK HATFIELD

Jack aspired for a guard position this year. He was used in several games, but fell short of the required number of quarters necessary to win a letter.

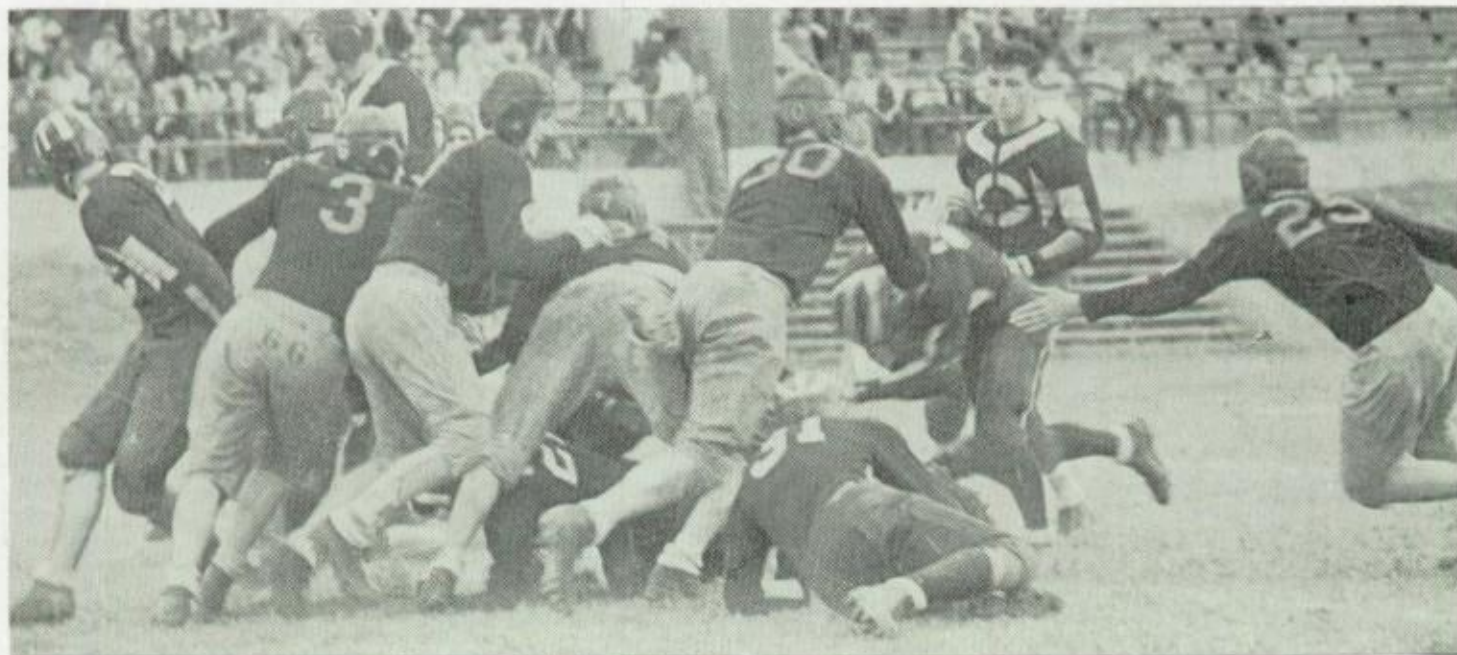

GEORGE SUMMERS

Summers is a junior who substituted at the fullback position this season. He will be back for more and better service next year.

RONALD MOLDEN

"Moldy" was one of our hard luck players this year. He played at guard the second half of the first game but suffered a knee injury on the last play and consequently was out for the season.

Central vs. Des Moines

CENTRAL 52—LE MARS 0

After four weeks of rehearsing, the "Little Maroons" tackled the LeMars "Bulldogs" and threw them for a 52-0 defeat. The game, played under the Stock Yards floodlights, revealed a smashing offensive and good defensive Central aggregation. Long gains by Ewald and Neal around end, and plunges by the other backfield men accounted for the Central points. Passing proved to be a nearly perfect asset of the Martinmen. Bernard, halfback, was appointed captain for this game and he played exceptional football to justify the honor. His teammates who started the game were Newton and Epstein, ends; Roach and Kelly, tackles; Goldberg and Cain, guards; Hamilton, center; Baumsten, quarterback; Ewald, halfback; and McDonough, fullback.

CENTRAL 6—EAST DES MOINES 0

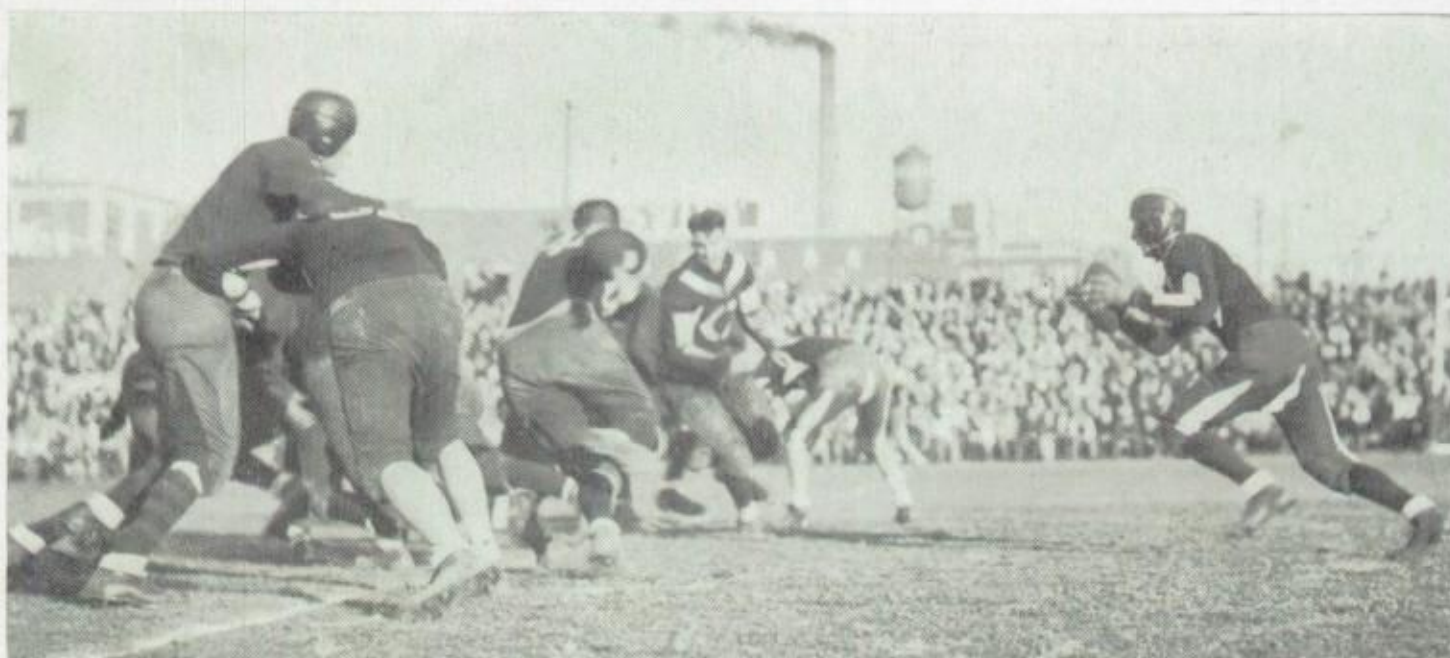

The Martinmen captured the spotlight in their second game of the season by beating East Des Moines High School 6-0, at Drake Stadium in Des Moines. The Central touchdown was scored by Bernard after a consistent series of runs and plunges by Ewald and Bernard in the first quarter of the play. On two other occasions the Maroon team threatened the Des Moines goal although East never secured that advantage. The penalties imposed on the Central team netted East High nearly 200 yards. This victory put the Little Maroons in line for state championship honors. Epstein, our stellar end, captained the team for this initial out-of-town game. Those who took the field with him were Newton, end; Kelly and Roach, tackles; Goldberg and Cain, guards; Hamilton, center; Baumsten, quarterback; Bernard, and Ewald, halfbacks; and McDonough, fullback.

CENTRAL 22—FORT DODGE 0

The Little Maroons started the show with the Fort Dodge aggregation by scoring a field goal from the 20-yard line. This kick was made by Bernard. In the second quarter, Bernard scored a touchdown on an off-tackle play. In the third quarter, the "Dodgers" held the team scoreless. We came back in the fourth scene and secured two touchdowns on passes—one by Ewald and the second by Neal. Although the score indicated a poor game, the Fort Dodge team put up a fight to the finish. Bernard's punting was the feature of the game. This victory was just another stepping stone in the Central march to the state limelight. Ewald, our fleet-footed halfback, captained the team this game. The lineup is as follows: Epstein and Newton, ends; Roach and Kelly, tackles; Cain and Goldberg, guards; Hamilton, center; Baumsten, quarterback; Ewald and Bernard, halfbacks; and McDonough, fullback.

CENTRAL 39—COUNCIL BLUFFS 0

The Central players journeyed to Council Bluffs and romped over the strong Thomas Jefferson eleven to the tune of 39 to 0. The team cooperated well together to secure six touchdowns. Three of these were scored by Bernard, who was the captain for this game. Ewald, Haley, and Byrne each placed the ball over the Tee Jay goal once. In this game, every man who made the trip was used. Each combination was equally effective against the Council Bluffs team. This was the fourth straight game of the season in which the team was not scored upon. The starting lineup for this game was Epstein and Newton, ends; Roach and Kelly, tackles; Goldberg and Strackbein, guards; R. McIntyre, center; Baumsten, quarterback; Ewald and Bernard, halfbacks; and McDonough, fullback.

Maroon and White

Central vs. Hawarden

CENTRAL 32—DENISON 9

The Little Maroons stole the show on the opening play of the game by securing a touchdown on a sleeper play to Ewald. However, the Denisonites retaliated with a touchdown in the first quarter after a steady drive down the field. Another touchdown by Central and two points for Denison on a safety, ended the half with the score of 14 to 9. The Central defense strengthened and the offense secured more driving power in the third and fourth scenes, so that Denison was unable to score and the Maroon team secured three touchdowns. Ewald played a stellar game at the halfback post to advance the Martinmen many times. Denison was the first team to score on Central in five games. Roach, a veteran tackle, was captain for this game. The players who went on the field with him were Epstein and Newton, ends; Roach and Kelly, tackles; Hatfield and Goldberg, guards; R. McIntyre, center; Baumsten, quarterback; Ewald and Haley, halfbacks; and McDonough, fullback.

CENTRAL 51—HAWARDEN 0

The Little Maroons focused their attack on the Hawarden eleven for the sixth game of the season. Hawarden presented a light but fast team. In the first half, only twelve points were scored by the Martinmen. They came back, however, in the third reel to grab nineteen points. When the curtain fell, the score had been raised to fifty-one points. A strong attack, sure defense, and accurate passing were outstanding features of the Central team. Hawarden, although far outclassed, put up a scrappy and game fight. Goldberg, our small but fighting guard, piloted the team in this encounter. Those who began on the stock yards stage with him were Newton and Bathen, ends; Kelly and Roach, tackles; Goldberg and Cain, guards; R. McIntyre, center; Baumsten, quarterback; Ewald and Neal, halfbacks; and Bernard, fullback.

Maroon and White

Central vs. South Omaha

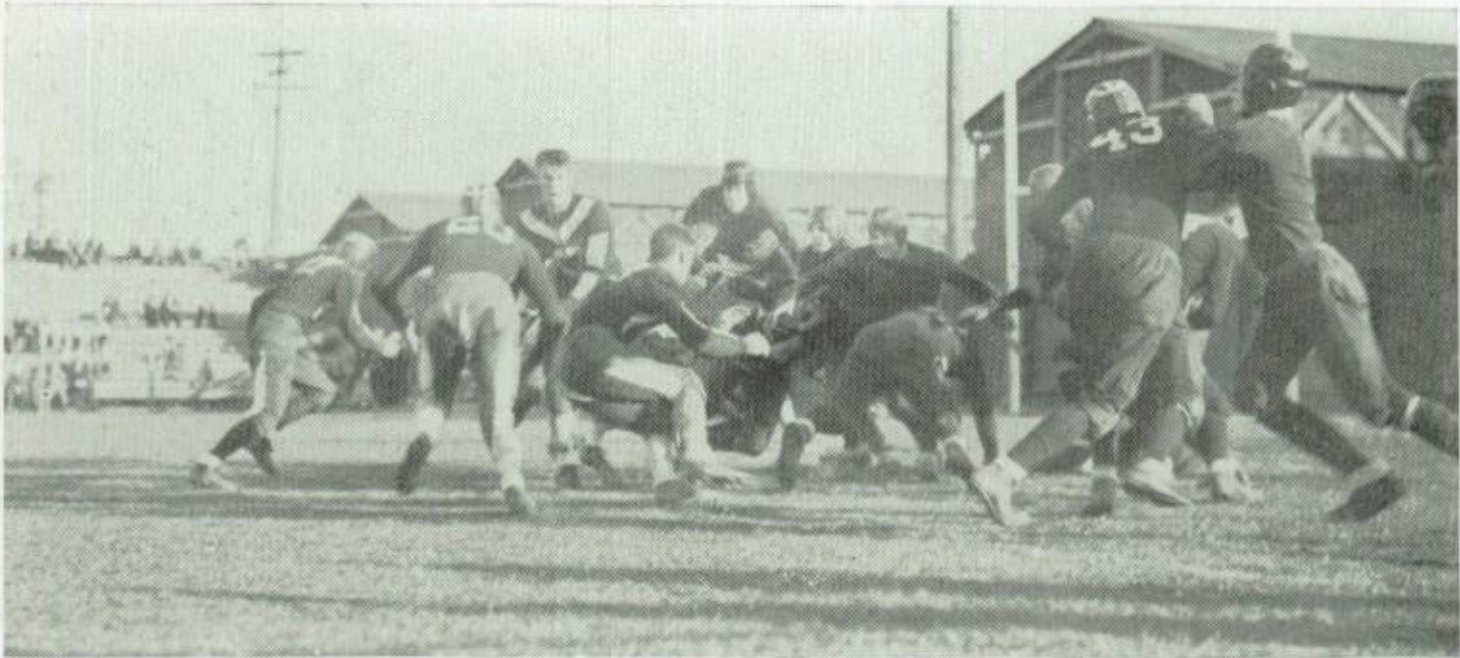

CENTRAL 13—EAST 0

In the annual city championship battle between East and Central, the first quarter was scoreless. In the second stanza, the Orange and Black aggregation carried the ball to Central's 15-yard line where they tried for a field goal. The whole Maroon forward wall broke through and blocked the kick. Epstein picked up the ball and, after racing nearly eighty yards with East's fastest man, Muth, trailing all the way, galloped over the last white line for six points. In the third reel, after a pass caught by Bernard, Neal crashed five yards for Central's second marker. Neal then kicked the point. All through this game it seemed as if a jinx had been placed on the Central team for they could not hit their stride. The players who were present for the curtain raising were Newton and Epstein, ends; Kelly and Roach, tackles; Cain and Goldberg, guards; McIntyre, center; Baumsten, quarterback; Ewald and Neal, halfbacks; and Bernard, fullback. Bernard, Epstein, and Ewald drew lots for the captaincy of this game. Bernard drew the lucky number and had the honor of being the head man in this game.

CENTRAL 53—SOUTH OMAHA 0

The Little Maroons rehearsed for a tough game with the players from Omaha, but when the time for the performance was at hand, they were found to be a set-up. The Martinmen scored three touchdowns in each of the first and second scenes. They were clearly back in their championship form after the game with East and gave the Homecoming crowd a real thrill by their long runs and snappy plunges. Omaha came back in the third reel and held the team scoreless, but let them through for two more markers in the fourth stanza. Captain McDonough was injured in the first quarter of the game. His teammates on the opening kickoff were Newton and Epstein, ends; Kelly and Carlson, tackles; Cain and Goldberg, guards; Hamilton, center; Baumsten, quarterback; and Bernard and Ewald, halfbacks. McDonough held down the fullback position.

Maroon and White

Central vs. East

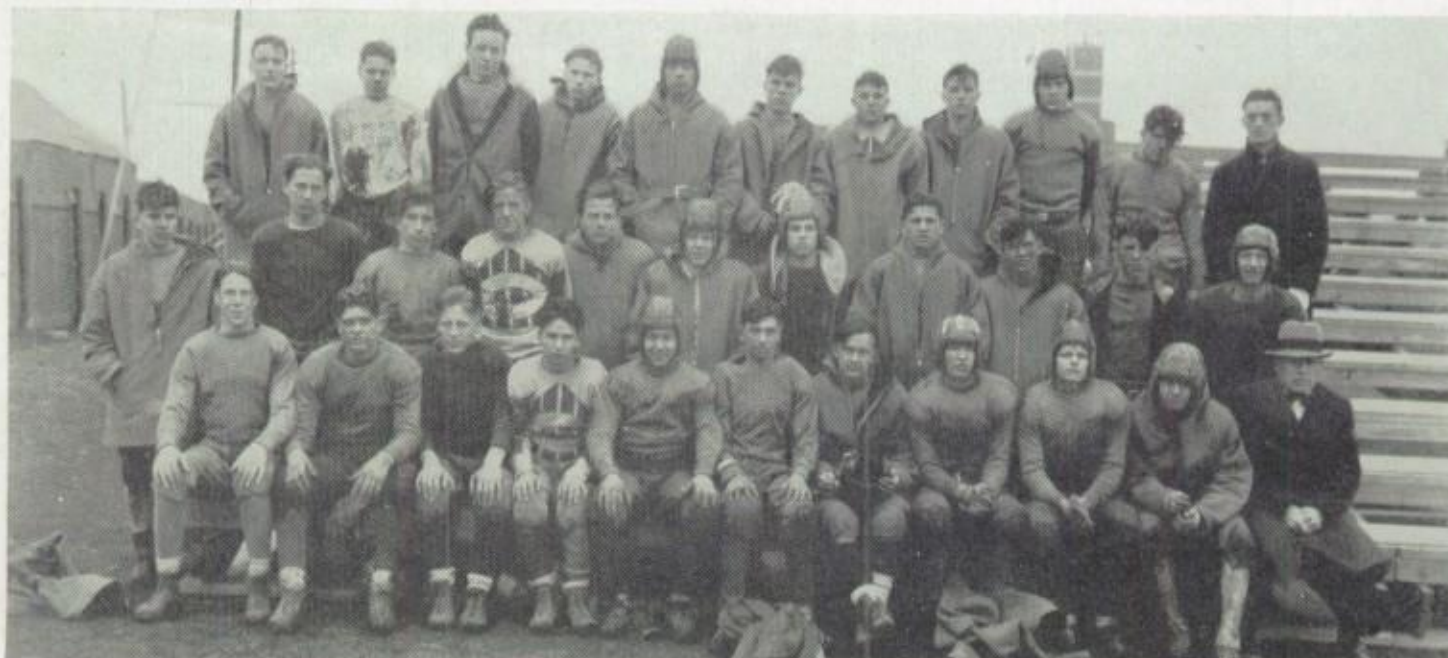

CENTRAL 0—SIOUX FALLS 8

The Little Maroon players went out of town for their closing game of the season. The Sioux Falls field was a sheet of ice upon which no foothold could be secured. A lazy snow fell throughout the conflict of the two teams which had long been rivals. Sioux Falls secured their first two points when they blocked one of Bernard's punts and the ball rolled outside over the goal line. The other six points were scored on a similar play when a Sioux Falls man fell on the ball over the goal. Central outplayed and outgained Coach Wood's warriors, but secured none of the breaks. The team carried the slippery ball within scoring distance several times but always lost it on a fumble. Jack Newton, left end, captained the team for this game. The others who started the game were Epstein, end; Kelly and Roach, tackles; Cain and Goldberg, guards; Hamilton, center; Baumsten, quarterback; Neal and Ewald, halfbacks; and Bernard, fullback.

CENTRAL 0—MOVILLE 0

The scrubs raised the curtain for the season by holding the Menville first team to a 0-0 tie. Rouse and Arendsdorf, starring in the backfield, carried the ball within scoring distance of the Menville goal several times, but at this point the Menville line held.

CENTRAL SECONDS 19—LE MARS SECONDS 0

The second exhibition of the season was on the LeMars field. Casper, playing his first game for Central, performed well in the backfield. Captain Loe led the following players on the field: Hanson and Bergen, ends; Hilton and Miller, tackles; Salsman and Strackbein, guards; Nystrom, center; Arendsdorf, quarterback; Loe and Casper, halfbacks; and Rouse, fullback.

CENTRAL SECONDS 6—DEAN'S TERRIORS 0

The scrubs gave a home presentation of their talents in their third game. This was against a team composed of Central and East graduates and ineligible students. They gained considerably more yardage than did the sand-lot team. The touchdown was scored on a pass from Snow which fell in the hands of Captain Loe, who crossed the line for six points. The nearest the Terriors came to our goal was the 20-yard line.

Maroon and White

Central Seconds vs. East Seconds

CENTRAL 14—SOUTH SIOUX CITY 6

The seconds entertained South Sioux on the Stock Yards gridiron for their first home game. The first quarter was eventful for the Quinmen in that they scored a touchdown. Snow ran thirty yards around end. Herman then smashed the ball over for the first score of the game. Snow scored the second touchdown on a pass from Casper. The reserves looked good to the home rooters and proved themselves to be a team worthy of Central.

CENTRAL SECONDS 16—EAST SECONDS 7

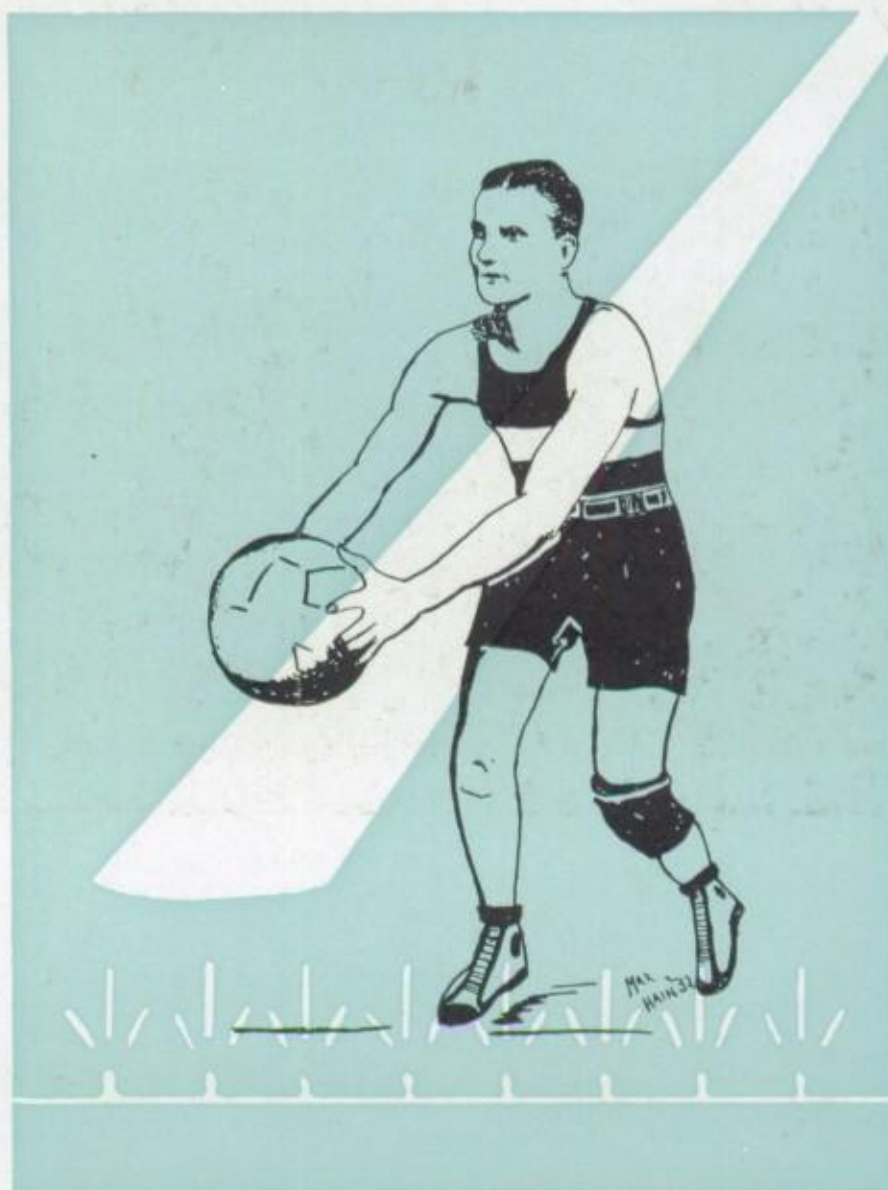

In a forerunner of the big contest the reserves met and defeated the East High scrubs. The half ended with the Centralites on the long end of the 6-0 count. They had consistently outplayed the East reserves. The third quarter netted the Maroon team four points. In the fourth scene, Rouse smashed through the line for a touchdown. The point was not converted.

CENTRAL SECONDS 6—LE MARS SECONDS 0

The scrubs gave an exhibition of their playing as a prelude to the Homecoming game. Casper scored their first touchdown, but the kick for a point was not converted. The LeMars team put up a good fight, but waged a losing battle all the way. The Quinmen were in a scoring distance twice but failed to push the ball over the LeMars goal line.

CENTRAL SECONDS 13—DECATUR, NEBRASKA, 7

The scrubs presented the last act of their competition this year when they downed the Decatur, Nebraska, first team. The first quarter was scoreless, but Arensdorf scored on a pass from Rouse in the opening minutes of the second scene. Decatur also secured seven points this period. Rouse smashed the ball over in the third quarter and Casper secured the point on a place kick. This last game revealed that our second team equals the first team of many schools.

1931 Basketball Revue

On the first day of practice, nearly seventy-five candidates reported to Coach Martin to try out for team positions. Among these were six stars from the players of last season. These were Baumsten, Bernard, English, Jepson, Malloy, and Newton.

Although there was much experienced material present, Coach Martin expected to have a tedious job in turning out a representative quintet. Among the other candidates were many men of first and second squads of last year and many Sophs and Juniors of first and second squad caliber.

CENTRAL 11—SOLDIER 13

The Little Maroon basketball quintet started the season with the fast and experienced team from Soldier, Iowa. The Soldiers started out with a bang but were soon stopped by the Central defense which grew better as the game wore on. Hamilton started our scoring by the long field goal. Central was leading at the half and the game was tied at eleven all at the end of the third quarter. Soldier won the game on a field goal at the end of the game.

CENTRAL 21—COUNCIL BLUFFS 25

Between Central and Abraham Lincoln High School the first half of the game was decidedly in the favor of Central's team. The score at the half gave the Centralites a seven-point lead. The Rail Splitters retaliated in the third and fourth scenes to lead by one point toward the end of the game. Malloy received a gift toss which he converted to tie the score as the game ended. In the extra period the Council Bluffs team scored three baskets and the Central team one, so that the score ended 21 to 25.

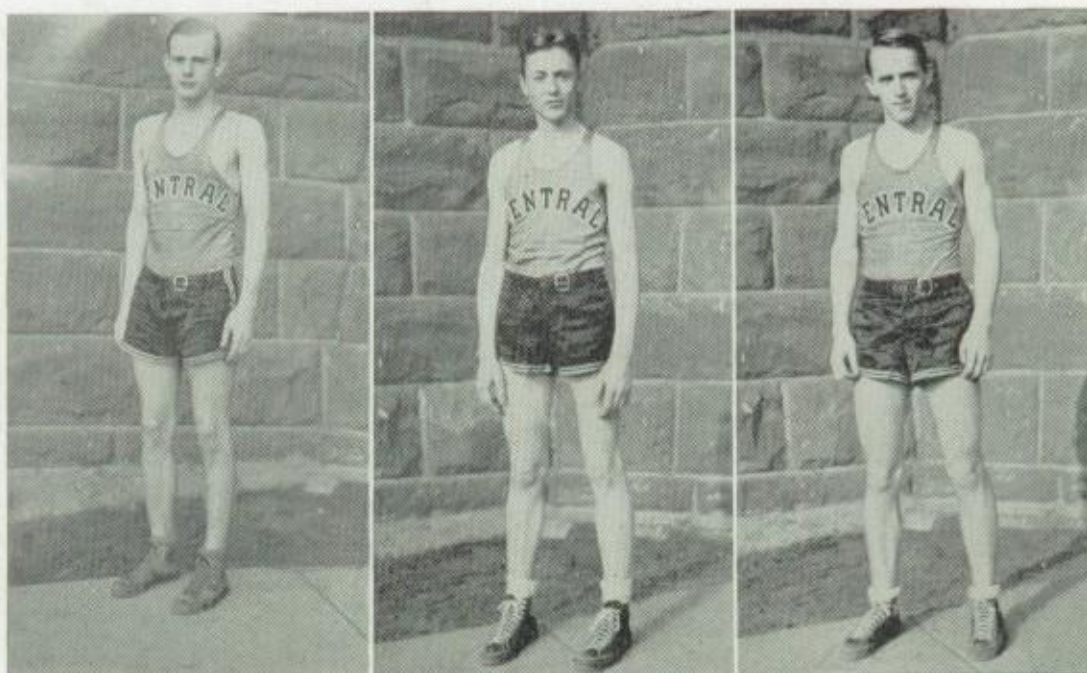

CENTRAL 21—SPIRIT LAKE 20

The Central-Spirit Lake game was fast and furious throughout the first half. In the third quarter, first one team and then the other secured the advantage. Freerks tied the score by a long field goal. Two overtime periods were necessary before Central won by one point.

CENTRAL 15—SIOUX FALLS 35

The Central basketball performers journeyed to Sioux Falls to play Washington High School. The Little Maroons collapsed completely while Sioux Falls played at top notch form. In the course of the game, the Central basketekers missed twenty shots. The game ended with a score of 35 to 15.

CENTRAL 25—SAC CITY 22

Between semesters, Central entertained the Sac City Indians on our own floor. The game was to be the last Central athletic contest for two players, Jack Newton and Gene Hamilton. A rearranged team took the floor for the game. Bathen was placed at center, Freerks and Huff at the forwards, and Hamilton and Neal played the guards. After two minutes of playing, Bathen opened the scoring with two free throws. The remainder of the half found Central usually a point or two ahead of the Indians. The last half proved to be a thrilling contest in which Central's sparse lead was continually threatened. Newton cinched the game in the last few seconds by dropping a difficult short shot to give Central a three-point victory.

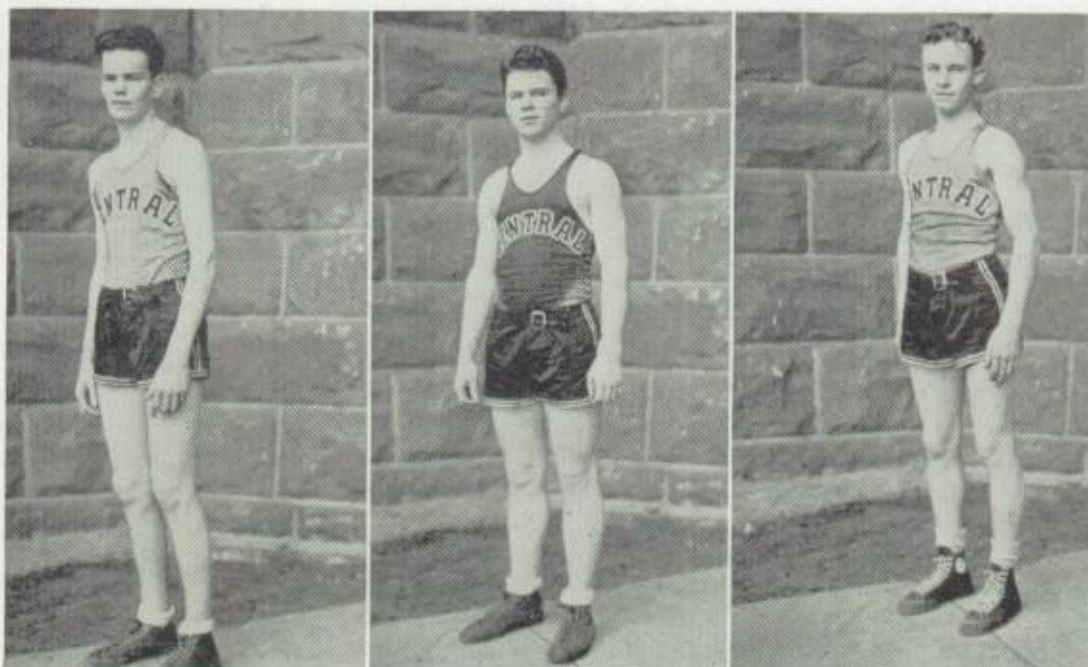

CENTRAL 28—LE MARS 14

The Little Maroons traveled a ways up the line to play with our neighbors, the Bulldogs from LeMars High School. The game started out with the Bulldogs taking the lead. Central soon caught up, though, and for the rest of the quarter the playing was nearly even. In the next three periods, the Central quintet showed their superiority by a wide margin. By the end of the game, the Martinmen doubled the score of their opponents. In this game the team displayed wonderful form and seemed to be in excellent shape.

CENTRAL 16—SIOUX FALLS 31

Playing host to a rangy Sioux Falls quintet proved to be a disastrous event for the Little Maroon basketeters. The first half was a complete walk away for the tall visitors from Washington High. They garnered twenty-five points and held Central to six. The Martinmen came back in the second half and proceeded to do some damage. They placed ten additional points on the scoreboard and held Coach Wood's boys to six points. If Central had displayed the form in the first half that they did in the second, there would have been a smaller margin of victory.

CENTRAL 18—FORT DODGE 20

The Little Maroons took a trip to Fort Dodge for a visit with the Dodgers. The game in the first three periods developed quite well for Central. The boys played pretty good ball and held the Dodgers down to a mediocre number of baskets. The game had a minute to go and the score was tied at 18 all when two fouls were called in succession on Central men. The Dodger players made the two points good and thereby contributed a two-point victory for their team. Thus the first half of Central's week-end road trip ended disastrously.

CENTRAL 30—MASON CITY 38

The Little Maroons opened hostilities with the Mason City quintet on the night after the Fort Dodge meeting. They immediately started after blood and the half saw the boys in front with a 19 to 9 score. However, they came back in the half and let Mason City completely swamp them. The team had absolutely no aggressiveness in the third and fourth reels. The game ended in a tie score, 28 to 28. In three minutes overtime period, the opposition garnered ten points and held us to two points.

CENTRAL 33—CHEROKEE 11

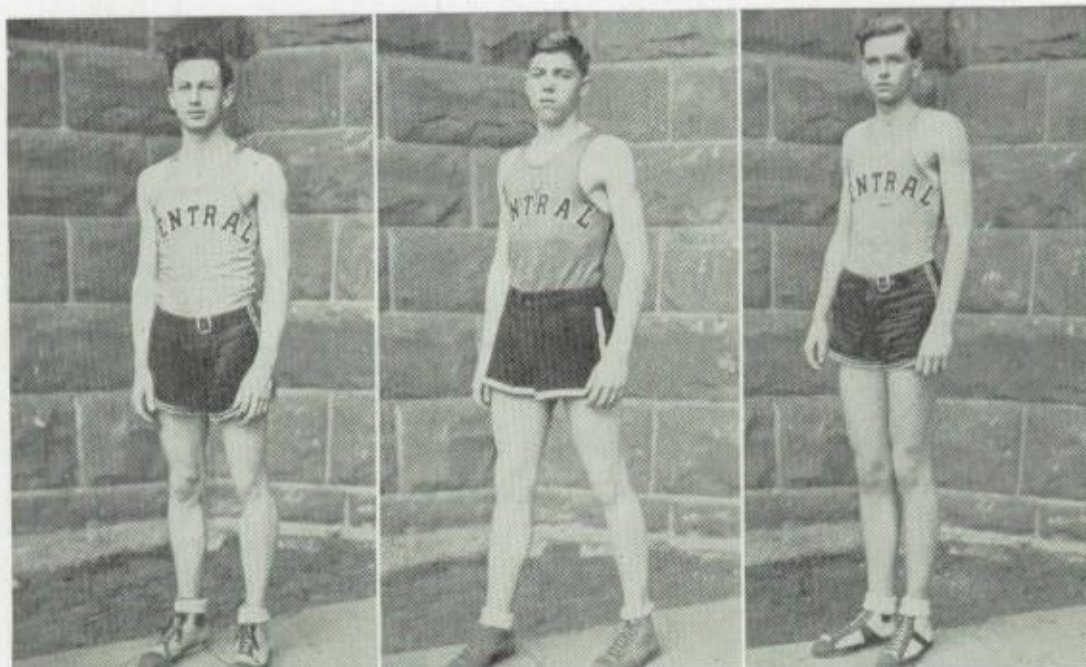

The Little Maroons played host to the team from Cherokee High School on a Friday night. It took the Central boys a few seconds to get warmed up, but after Bathen started the fireworks the home team started to drop buckets from all angles. The half was a superb exhibition of offensive and defensive strength on Central's part. The visitors gathered one gratis point. The second half was also a victory for the Little Maroons, but Cherokee slipped ten points through the hoop. This game was quite a boost to the deflated spirits of the Central team and student body.

CENTRAL 22—EAST 24

The Little Maroons were all keyed up and determined to win the sixth renewal of the annual contest fought with the highly successful suburbanite team from East High. The game opened with East getting the tip off. In the ensuing half, Central scored again and again to end with 17 points and held East High to 12 points. The East High boys came back fast in the third reel and soon threatened our lead. They forged ahead of the team before Central again started to score. In the last minute, however, the gun went off with East clinging to a two-point victory, gained solely on gratis shots. The Little Maroons played an wonderful defensive and offensive game considering their former record.

CENTRAL 28—BERESFORD 16

Refreshed from the East High game, the Central team went to Beresford, South Dakota, to engage the high school team. Beresford gained an early lead, but Central was leading at the half. They continued conquering the Beresford team in the third and fourth reels. Beresford was a wild shooting outfit and proved an easy mark for the improved Little Maroons.

CENTRAL 27—HAWARDEN 14

The Little Maroons played their last scheduled game of the season on the hardwood court of the high school at Hawarden, Iowa. The Central players proceeded to capture their second victory of the week by thumping the Hawarden hoopsters. At one time, Central was threatened by the opposing team, but soon drew away and scored a victory.

Tournaments

Central started off in the sectional tournament by defeating Kingsley 43 to 1. The next night they met their old opponents, East High, in a close and exciting game, showing their determination and beat them 23 to 21 in an overtime period.

Central was host at its first district tournament and easily downed Hawarden 37 to 11. In the second round they met with stiffer opposition, but conquered Holstein by a score of 23 to 15.

For the first time in eight years, Central High's basketball squad journeyed to Des Moines to contend for the state championship. In their first game they met Bennett on the Drake floor. They played a highly successful game at the expense of the inferior, but fighting boys from Bennett and came out winners with a score of 35 to 20.

In the second game of the state tournament, Central played Olds, which was considered a fast outfit. The tired Martinmen had a hard time keeping these eagle-eyed boys from gathering more than their share of baskets, but succeeded and the game ended in Central's favor, 23 to 19.

In the afternoon of final day, Central met the scrappy Livermore team in the semi-finals. Livermore presented tough opposition during the first three quarters, but were overwhelmed by our superior forces and in the last quarter bowed to a score of 31 to 17.

That evening in the final game, Central had the honor of meeting Roosevelt High of Des Moines. These two teams represented the cream of the crop in the teams of the state. Roosevelt led at the half, but Central came back fighting hard and actually displayed better floor work than the Roosevelt team, but could not compete with the excellent shooting of the Rough Riders. It was in this that the Little Maroons were defeated 24 to 18. The squad returned bearing the honor of runnerup in the State Basketball Tournament.

Cheer Leaders

In the fall of every new school year, it is customary to select four cheer leaders to lead the school in promoting pep for the various athletic events of the year.

This year the four persons selected after tryouts are some of the very best yell leaders in the history of the school. These four students are Virginia Hunter, Myrtle Peterson, Max Hain, and Max Gaspar.

They planned and carried out many very interesting and successful programs and decorated the auditorium for the pep gatherings of the school in addition to the excellent leading of yells at the games.

By leading the students in supporting the school teams, the four cheer leaders have performed a great service for the school.

RESERVES 12—SOPHOMORE RESERVES 13

The Reserves played the first game of the season against their own teammates, the Sophomore Reserves. The game started out rather slow, but soon developed into a closely contested spectacle. The Sophomores worked well together, but were somewhat hampered by the Reserves' better defensive playing. The game ended with the Sophomores the victors by one free throw.

RESERVES 29—ELITES 12

The Reserves gave the season's second presentation on our home floor as a preliminary to the Sac City game. The Elite Literary Society furnished the team to compete with the Reserves. The seconds were a little slow in getting a start, but they soon outdistanced the Elites to take a substantial lead. The Elites, although playing a losing game, fought gamely. The game ended with the Reserves on top of a 29 to 12 score.

RESERVES 29—LE MARS RESERVES 7

The reserves took their first trip up to LeMars to play a preliminary to the Little Maroon's game with the Bulldogs. The Reserves hit a pretty good pace in the game and kept the LeMars boys trailing all the time. The game showed the results of the work which the Reserves have been doing during the season. The game ended with LeMars hopelessly lost in a 29 to 7 score.

RESERVES 32—LE MARS RESERVES 4

The Baby Bulldogs from LeMars paid a return visit to the Central Reserves as a curtain raiser to the Sioux Falls game. The Central boys played well together at the expense of LeMars. They delivered a severe drubbing to the visitors to the extent of a 32 to 4 defeat. All the LeMars points were made on free throws.

RESERVES 14—MACCABEES 19

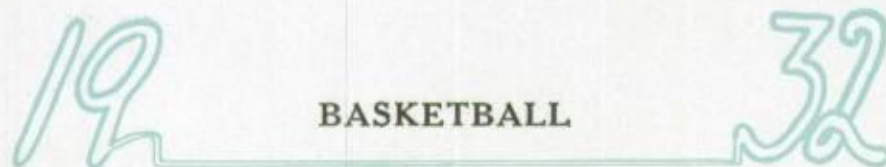

The Maccabees came up to Central to visit with the Reserves for their fifth game. Previous to this, the Reserves had won four straight games and consequently felt rather overconfident about this game. The contest started out rather slowly, but soon developed into a real battle with first one team and then the other securing the lead. Central, however, was not playing up to par so that the game ended with the Maccabees triumphantly sitting on top of a five-point lead.

RESERVES 20—MACCABEES 10

The Reserves played a prelude to the Cherokee game with their formerly victorious opponents, the Maccabees. Still smarting from the beating administered to them the previous week the boys came out on the floor and went for a victory from the opening whistle. They played good ball throughout the game so that they were rewarded with a victory when the final gun announced the end of the game.

RESERVES 18—EAST RESERVES 31

As a curtain raiser to the first team game, the Reserves played a game with the East High Reserves. East took an early lead in the contest and kept it throughout the game. The Central boys seemed inexperienced compared with the boys from the suburban school. They played a scrappy game, but at no time threatened the well coached team from East. The game ended with East on the long end of a 31 to 18 score.

Preview of Season

The 1932 track season opened with sixty prospective candidates appearing in order to apply for team positions. This number, however, soon dwindled down to a handful of thirty. Among these were Jepson, Baumsten, Mathewson, and Neal, boys who had won letters in the previous season. Tommy Neal was chosen as captain of the Central scantyclads for the season.

CARROLL RELAYS

The first track competition of the season for Central High was held at Carroll, Iowa. Coach Martin assembled fourteen Maroon and White athletes for this carnival. Out of the ten events held at this meet, eight of them were entered by the Martinmen. Relay teams for the half-mile, two-mile, and medley relays were entered. The individual events entered were the high hurdles, 100-yard dash, shot put, high jump, and javelin throw. The men taken were Neal, Jepson, Baumsten, Goldberg, Keating, Hatfield, Huff, Rahn, Putman, McBride, Pike, Roberts, Town, and Mathewson.

No points were given in this meet, but the Central athletes performed well for their first meet and made a very favorable showing. The boys won two firsts, two seconds, and one third.

Captain Neal broke the record in the 120-yard high hurdles and took first in the high jump. The medley relay team and the half-mile team placed second in their events. Herb Baumsten took third in the javelin throw.

Four men were taken to Des Moines for the annual Drake Relay Carnival. They were Captain Neal, Rahn, Baumsten, and McBride. These boys ran the half-mile and quarter-mile relays, but failed to qualify.

DAKOTA RELAYS

Coach Martin took eight scanty-clad athletes to the annual Dakota Relays at Sioux Falls. These eight fellows were entered in the half-mile, medley, and two-mile relays. A favorable showing was made by the Little Maroon delegates.

FONDA TRACK CARNIVAL

For the first time in history Central sent track delegates to the annual meet at Fonda, Iowa. Eight runners were participating in the Dakota Relays at Sioux Falls on the same day, so only five men made the trip. These five were Jepson, Baumsten, Hansen, Putman, and Keith, all weight men. They garnered seventeen points, which gave them third place in the meet.

EAST-CENTRAL MEET

The Little Maroon tracksters from the Castle on the Hill again won the annual intra-city meet by a score of $76\frac{1}{4}$ to $50\frac{3}{4}$. The Hill-toppers won nine of the fourteen events and scored grand slams in three of them. Captain Neal retained his title of high point man of the meet this year by garnering $21\frac{1}{4}$ individual points and running on the victorious half-mile relay team. Kehoe, of East, performed well for the suburban school. The Morningside mile relay team won first in its event and set a new record in doing so. Central's half-mile relay team also established a new record. This meet with East was the third athletic event of the year in which Central was successful in downing their Orange and Black rivals from East High. It climaxed the proof of Central's superiority in athletics.

Club Tennis Tournament

The clubs turned the spotlight to tennis early in the first semester. The Civics captured the first honors in this division of the clubs' competition for the Hoberg Trophy. Elite representatives were a close second, and the Chrestos took third.

The Civics players, Glenn Olson and Marion Watts, defeated the Elites, Max Hain and John Ferguson, in the doubles. Watts defeated Hain, and Olson won from Ferguson in the singles.

The Elite team, Max Gerken and Max Gaspar, trimmed the Chresto representatives, Eddie Miller and Max Maron, in the doubles match. Gaspar won from Miller in the singles match. The other single match was forfeited.

The Chresto and Civics racket wielders met at Hubbard Park for the third match. The Civics won all the matches.

Intra-Club Golf Tournament

The followers of the little white ball met late in October and battled for the golf championship for the golf championship of the literary societies. The first attempt to decide the winning club resulted in a triple tie. The Elites were defeated by the Civics, but came back and beat the Chrestos. The Chrestos then defeated the Civics.

In the playoff matches, the Chrestos cinched the title by defeating both the Elite Literary Society and the Civics Literary Society. Elite representatives took second by defeating the Kee-Y's.

Those who played in the golf tournament for the Chrestos were Clyde Onstot and Max Maron. Bob McClintock, Lloyd Stein, Jack Crowley, and John Manning played for the Elites. The Civics representatives were Chris Jepson and Richard Anderson.

Inter-Club Basketball

Basketball captured the spotlight for the literary society members late in March. The first conflict of the series was scheduled between the Elites and Kee-Y's.

The Elite team took a close game by the score of 11 to 10. The Elites next took on the Chrestos and proceeded to deliver them a good trouncing. This placed the Elite Literary Society on top for the tournament. The next night the Chrestos and Kee-Y's battled for second place. The Kee-Y's displayed much better form than their opponents, so that they won the game. Thus, the Elites came out first; Civics, second; and Chrestomathians, third.

Inter-Class Basketball Tournament

In the annual tournament among the classes, the Seniors romped off with all honors this year. In the first game they defeated the Sophomore quintet by a score of 30 to 12 in a fast game. On the second night of hostilities, the Sophs gamely battled the Juniors, but lost by a score of 21 to 18. The Seniors clinched the title by humbling the Juniors under a score of 23 to 12.

The Senior team was composed of Huff and J. Shea, forwards; Beaubien, center; and Hamilton and Ryan, guards. Hamilton was chosen captain of the team.

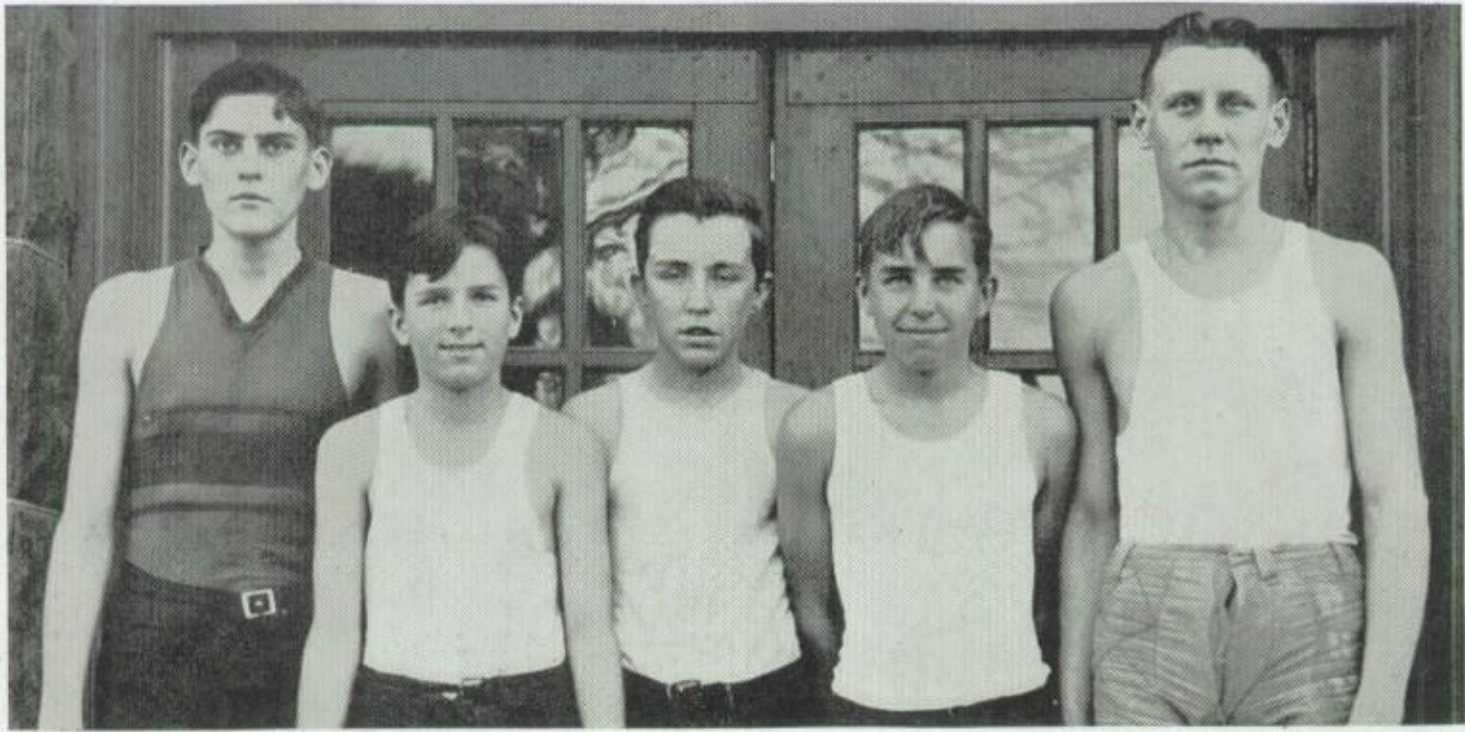

The Senior second team was also victorious in all its contests. It defeated the Sophs 22 to 13, and the Juniors 26 to 17. The Junior seconds won second place by two points when they defeated their underclassmen 13 to 11.

Gym Class Basketball Tournament

Basketball has been one of the best liked sports of Central since a gym has been contained within this building. It also has been one of the most suitable to adopt to the intramural sports activities.

Last year Mr. Quinn inaugurated a basketball tournament which gave every boy taking physical training a chance to play on a team. The tournament was very successful so he continued with the play this year. In this new tournament, sixteen teams composed of from six to eight players each participated. One hundred nine boys played in the games.

Team number one composed of Irvine, C. Carey, Rahn, Conally, G. Carey, and Boe captured the first honors. In the finals they defeated team number sixteen composed of Hess, Salzman, Nelson, Baker, Mirowitz, and Nichols. The game was fast and close, the score being 21 to 18.

All Tourament Team

This year's inter-gym class tournament was one of very good playing, fine sportsmanship, cooperative team work, and exceptional leadership. Many sophomores of unusual ability in these lines were uncovered from the rank and file of the members of the gym classes. Of all these qualities, the one of good playing seemed to predominate throughout the tournament. Many tall boys suitable for center positions were found. Forwards favored with fine floor work were also discovered. Guards of good defensive caliber also were found to be profusely sprinkled among the players. Nearly every boy who participated learned some phase of basketball which will stand him in good stead in later years.

Five boys who seemed to be a little above the average in their playing ability were found deserving of special mention. These boys were selected to fill the honorary positions on an all-tournament team. They were selected not only for their superior playing, but also for their sportsmanship. They were Mike Cherpensky, Abe Braverman, Charles Carey, Gordon Carey, and Donald Hess.

Class Track Meet

The annual track carnival participated in by the three classes and conducted by Coach Martin, was held a week before the East meet. The Seniors were favored to win the meet, but it was expected that the Juniors would push them hard.

The Seniors, true to form, established a one-point lead in the first event and held a considerable lead from there on. There were fourteen events in the meet. The Seniors took nine firsts and the Juniors five. Neal broke the record in the 100-yard dash by covering the course in 10.2 seconds. Hansen, of the Juniors, broke the record in the discus by throwing it 105.8 feet. The time in all of the other events was very good, but not of championship caliber.

The contestants in the events were awarded five points for a first, three for a second, two for a third, and one for a fourth. The final score showed the Seniors ahead with $84\frac{1}{2}$ points, the Juniors second with $53\frac{1}{2}$, and the Sophomores last with 14. Neal was high point man with an even 25 points. He took four firsts, one second, and one third. Baumsten, of the Seniors, earned enough points to give him second honors for individual performance. He won first places in the broad jump and the javelin throw.

This meet gave Mr. Martin a good measuring stick by which to measure the abilities of his squad with that of Coach Davis' of East High in the approaching meet with that school.

The girls' gym classes held a volleyball tournament early in the first semester. All games were played in the gym under the supervision of Miss Strickler.

In the finals, the Invincibles defeated the Hot Shots to capture the title. The score of the first game played was 21 to 6, and the score of the second was 21 to 8.

Miss Strickler chose an honorary all-tournament team. Those who made the team were: Kathryn Kennedy, Vernice Shay, Mary Jane Ineff, Zena Borshuck, Jennie Staszewsky, Athena Thallas, Irene Foster, Charlotte Austin, Iola Gordon, Betty Towns, and Nettie Thomas. This sport proved to be very popular with the girls as great enthusiasm was shown in the playing of the games.

Highlights of the Course

The girls' gym course during this year consisted of a review of the fundamentals of gymnastics, volleyball, basketball, tennis, baseball, track, and the added feature of tumbling, stunts, and pyramid building. This new event aims to develop strength of endurance and physical grace. In the picture are shown seventy-eight girls, chosen from all the classes, portraying the primary fundamentals of tumbling; namely, somersaults, headstands, handstands, backstands, shoulderstands, splits, and combination balances.

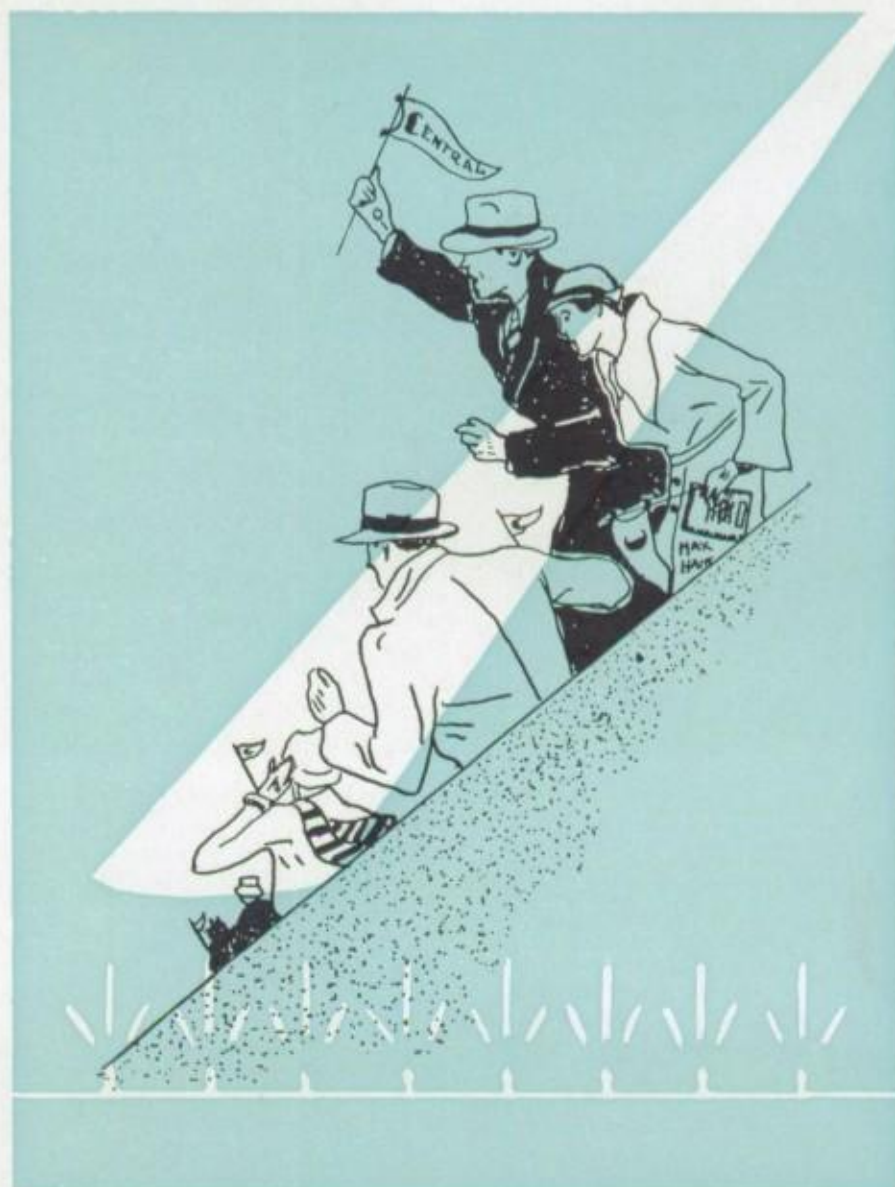

Tumbling was well-liked by all the girls and some were interested enough to practice after school in addition to class period.

This spring more time has been devoted to tennis than ever before. The girls practiced for about three weeks in class and then the two best players were selected to compete with those from other classes. By the process of elimination, the teams finally sifted down to Betty Rosenstock and Ethel Baron, Elsie Swanson and Iona Stevens, Jean Templeman and Lois Kuhlman, Kathryn Kennedy and Jennie Staszewsky, for the semi-finals. Jennie Staszewsky and Kathryn Kennedy came out on top in the finals.

MISFITS

By Ezra Mekkleheim.

Our Editor, she sits all day
And orders us around.
I'd like to know how she gets that way.
Is it that Chevy she drives around?

My teacher says that "ain't" ain't right,
But I say that that ain't so.
If I can't say "ain't" (as well I might),
Why, she knows where to go.

In days of yore
Our children wore
Red flannels thick and warm;
But nowadaze
They choose displays,
Which better show their form.

In olden days
Men would amaze
By their literary skill;
But culture now,
Is something foul,
And swallowed like a pill.

For fifty years the

A MEETING IN 1952

David Bernard, a retired "Tarzan" of movie fame, was busily engaged in shaving a heavily bearded dark gentleman in his private barber shop. As he completed the finishing touches, he gazed into eyes suddenly familiar and recognized Lyman Wilcox. After an explosive greeting, they began to talk at once. Everyone knew who David Bernard was, but Mr. Wilcox was a modest person who hid his shining light under a bushel. As he confided to Davey, he had been deeply engaged in international intrigue ever since he left Oxford, and continually in disguise—hence, the beard. As will most friends meeting again after a long period of time, they began to discuss their school days and what had become of their old friends.

"Tarzan" Bernard started it all by remarking upon how many Centralites had entered the movies. "Walt Ewald," he said, "is the football hero of the screen, and how the women fall for him! Florence Rumsch has taken over Mary Pickford's place as the little girl of the movies. Ruth Grabin is the 'Joan Bennett' of the present time. And you remember that huge box-office success, 'We Shocked Our Mothers'? Well, the leading lady was 'Ginger' Lennon, co-starring with Ralph Jones!"

Then Lyman interrupted to say confidentially that Helen Closner had just been chosen first woman delegate to the League of Nations, although it was not yet public knowledge. And James Bolks, the editor of "The New York Times" was well and prosperous and had one of the finest homes on Long Island. Louise Flynn was his foreign correspondent and the most accomplished one in the world. Then they spoke of Marion Lau, the private secretary of Dan "Quickfinger" Malloy, the king of the Underworld. They spoke in hushed voices of Dale Huff, whose life had been blighted by the curse of the dope habit and who can no longer support his sorrowing mother.

Max Gaspar, the hog-calling champion of the world, got his start as the cheer leader of dear old Central, and Herb Baumsten is the captain of the All-American football team of which Leo Cain is the famous guard. Bill Haley is coaching at Northwestern and has turned out one of the finest teams of the year. Virginia Hunter is the successor of dear old Texas Guinan, and her assistant is Marieta Kendall. Still inseparable, Ingeborg and Katherine compose the famous dancing team, "The Larsen Sisters," and Joe Barricks, the outstanding pianist of the United States, accompanies them for the sake of "auld lang syne." Two of the finest actors of the legitimate state are James Garstad and Richard Anderson. The latter's first success was "The Man Higher Up." Jeannette Gilliland is now the famed hostess of one of the largest department stores of the world, and Kathryn Gliessmann is the architect of the tallest building of the world. Joe Goldberg is the proprietor of the popular restaurant, "The Fatted Calf," with Bob McClintock as his business manager. The new wrestling champion of the Olympic Games is Bob Harrington of the "heinie" haircut. Dick Heitman has proved to be a chip off the old block as he is now principal of Central, but he owes his thick crop of hair to "Dixie Rose Hair Oil."

Of course, "Duffee" is now the blues singer of the famous Nocturnal Club, owned and operated by Bertha West. Horace Marvin is now rivaling Rowskimofsky in the designing of ladies bathing suits. Ronald Molden is the crooner of the hour, and Beverly Myers, the present Jane Adams, has conducted her valuable work in Sioux City.

Bob Nelson is subjected to periods of temporary derangement due to "delirium tremens" which have wrecked his brilliant career. Flo Oien, having had no luck in love, has taken up teaching and is now head of the Commercial Department at Central; and Joanie Norris is the successor of Lelong in Paris. Dorothy Penman, the illustrious social leader of New York society, is famed for her magnificent parties. Her old friend, "Tootie" Peterson, is engrossed in the intricacies of aviation. Jack Reams is the greatest jazz orchestra leader of the world, and a well known lawyer in Philadelphia is Eugene Sandberg. Abe Singer now uses his stentorian voice as a means of selling hot tamales in Coney Island. Allen Swanson, that good looking blond, has captured many female hearts, while Norton Spayde, inspired by his beloved G. A. A., has become the poet laureate of America. Boody Van Dyke, having been disappointed in love, has retired to a convent to spend the rest of her life in silence and meditation. Elinor Wakefield Crayne has lately figured in the big divorce case, Wakefield vs. Crayne. It is rumored that she is planning to elope with Chris Jepson, the eminent physician.

Far, far into the night, the two friends discussed the fortune and misfortune of their old-time friends, till morning found them sleeping soundly in barber chairs.

"Let bandits plan a ride for him,
We're alluding now to dad;
He tells how girlies cried for him
When he was a young lad.

"Ma smiles incredulously, then
She takes the floor with pride
And tells how many hearts of men
She broke to be his bride."
